WASHINGTON, May 25.—The question that agitated the Navy Department this morning was whether the Spanish squadron under Admiral Cervera is at Santiago de Cuba. The Department hopes and believes it is, but so far is not in possesion of accurate information.

The reason for its belief is that the Spanish squadron when last heard from was in that harbor and that it has not been seen anywhere else, in spite of the fact that scouting vessels of the navy fairly swarm the West Indians waters, and the Consuls near there have not reported the Spanish fleet.

A study of the defenses of the harbor at Santiago and the topographical features has convinced the experts that to undertake to carry the place by storm from the sea, and to attack the fleet while it is under the protection of the forts, would involve so great a loss of life on our part as to be entirely unwarranted under the existing circumstances.

The harbor is known to be mined, and these mines are so well protected by judiciously placed shore batteries that the usual methods of counter-mining can be practiced with only the utmost peril to our sailors.

Morro Castle, one of the principal defenses of the harbor, is perched upon a very high elevation. Its guns, if served with anything like fair gunnery, could rain a most destructive fire down upon our ships, and not even the battle ships and monitors are designed to resist a plunging fire of this kind. On the other hand, it is extremely difficult for guns mounted on shipboard to be sufficiently elevated to throw projectiles with any effect against a modern fortification on an elevated bluff or hill.

That is the lesson learned at San Juan, and the fleet there had the advantage of being able to lie off at long range, which it will not possess at the attack on Santiago. Of course, the place could be taken by assault, but, as already stated, the officials do not believe that the present conditions involve such an undertaking.

An effort, therefore, will probably be made to keep Cervera's fleet in the harbor until starvation drives them forth.

It is not doubted by naval experts that this can be done, as the narrow channel connecting the inner harbor ships emerging singly to almost cer with the sea would expose any Spanish tain destruction at the hands of a couple of armored vessels or monitors commanding the entrance.

Of course, there is always the danger of these watch dogs being themselves attacked and destroyed by some of the torpedo gunboat destroyers attached to Cervera's squadron, provided their commanders are desperate enough to face the primary and secondary batteries of the American warships. There is also the risk of an attack on the blockading vessels from without.

The news has reached the Navy Department to-day that the Spanish torpedo gunboat Terror had cleared out of the habor of Fort de France, after having taken coal from the Alicante.

"I give the Spanish squadron a three months' lease of life if it is in Santiago harbor," said a prominent naval officer this morning. He explained that he based his calculation on the length of time that the supplies of the fleet would hold out. Long before that time the town of Santiago, which probably will be cut off entirely by the insurgents, and perhaps by United States troops, will be practically starved, but following the Spanish practice elsewhere, Havana and Manila, for instance, the military and naval forces, appropriating all the food supplies, would hold out longer.

The long wait involved in this calculation, the naval officer explained, would have a very substantial compensation in the acquisition by the United States of the splendid vessels that go to make up the Spanish squadron, through their surrender. They represent in money value alone about $15,000,000, and have an additional value to the United States at this juncture that cannot be expressed in figures.

Rather reluctantly the Navy Department confirmed the report of the presence of the Oregon at Jupiter Inlet, Fla., where she arrived last night. The reluctance is shown because the department has decided it as good policy to keep the enemy in ignorance of the whereabouts of our vessels.

While declining to give any details of the trip at this time, the officials admit that the ship swung clear to the eastward of both the lesser and greater Antilles after leaving Barbadoes until she arrived at a point opposite the Bahamas, when she turned sharply in and made for the Florida coast.

Just what she is doing at Jupiter cannot be learned. Perhaps she is lying there to guard the great channel between the Bahamas and Florida, and as this would be the course followed by the Spanish squadron or by the torpedo boat destroyer Terror, in the event the Spanish had determined on an attack on some of the cities of the Northern Atlantic coast.

On the other hand, she may possibly be at Jupiter awaiting the instructions of the Department as to which way to proceed for cleaning and coal, in which case it would not be surprising if she appeared at Port Royal to-morrow and tested the new dock there for the first time for a battleship since her sister ship, the Indiana, was carried in a couple of years ago.

The Oregon left Mare Island, California, 13,000 miles from Jupiter, on March 19th, so she has averaged 200 miles a day for sixty-five days. As a matter of fact, the vessel had a better speed, for a good many days were lost in taking coal at the South American ports.

The Pacific Coast contingent in Washington cannot restrain their gratification over the performance of the creation of the slope work shops. Congressman Hilborn called at the Navy Department to verify the news of the ship's arrival, and he found the officials were fully disposed to agree with him in all that he had to say as to the Oregon's great record. He says that by this performance the ship has silenced forever the Congressional critics of the battleships, when they said that no battleship had ever or ever would cross the Atlantic. The trip of the Oregon has involved straightaway stretches of greater length than the Atlantic passages in any season.

The locating of the Oregon came about in a peculiar way, by means of beach watchers, who are on the alert for the approach of hostile ships.

These beach patrols continue night and day, and last night the patrol was rewarded by sighting the big American battleship. Signaling was begun by the use of torches, and in this way messages to and from the battleship were exchanged.

In turn these messages were sent to the Navy Department, which is connected by wire with the signal station near Jupiter Inlet. The Oregon has not yet sent the usual notice of her arrival.

TROOPS READY.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—One hundred and twelve thousand men have now been mustered into the volunteer army of the United States and the official reports show that the greater number of these are ready to move to the front. Two-thirds of the States have entirely completed their musters, and should the emergency arise, are prepared to begin anew the work just completed.

The failure of some of the States, notably four or five in the South, to furnish the men called for up to this time, is a surprise to the army officers on duty here, but is not ascribed to a lack of patriotism, but to a belief probably shared by many of the National Guardsmen who had home ties and business connections which they could not well afford to give up, that plenty of other persons not so encumbered would readily be found to take their places.

Ample time will be given the States referred to to fill the apportionment made by the War Department, and the expectation here is that it will be accomplished without further unnecessary delay. Should these States default, the probability is that the fact will be reported to Congress formally by the Secretary of War, for such action as may be deemed best under the circumstances.

No report can be had to draft measures without explicit authority therefor from the National Government.

THE SARANAC IS RELEASED.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

LONDON, May 25.—A dispatch received today from Lloyds' agent at Manila, via Hong Kong, says the American bark Saranac, Captain Bartaby, from Newcastle, New South Wales, on February 26th for Hollo, Philippine Islands, and which was captured shortly after the outbreak of the war by the Spanish gunboat El Cano, has been released.

The Saranac took about 1,640 tons of coal to Hollo, which is said to have been unloaded before she was captured. The coal was released some time ago. The Saranac is owned by William Simpson, Jr., of New York.

CERVERA CORNERED

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A special to the Herald from Washington says:

Spain's flying squadron will fly no longer. It's race is run.

Cooped up in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba its destruction or capture is considered by officials here to be merely a matter of time. Before the harbor are the armorclads of the American navy ready to give battle to Admiral Cervera's men-of-war the moment they poke their noses out of the channel leading to the sea.

Official advices announcing these to be the positions of the opposing fleets were received at the Navy Department last night from the commander-in-chief of the American force operating in front of the harbor. It was these advices which enabled the authorities to deny emphatically the reports that an action had occurred in the Windward passage.

MORE DELAY.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—The transport steamers have not sailed, although the soldiers have been on board the City of Peking since Monday, and on the Australia and the City of Sydney since yesterday.

The Australia, which is the flagship of the little fleet, is ready for sea, but the other vessels will hardly be ready for several days yet. Their cargoes are not all on board, and the vessels have not been trimmed for sea. Brigadier General Anderson and his staff are on board the Australia and waiting impatiently for the start. General Anderson is having the work rushed, but owing to the condition of the crowded vessels the crews cannot work as rapidly as the General would desire.

MADRID, May 25.—An official dispatch from Manila announces that the majority of the chiefs who took part in the past insurrection have presented themselves to the Spanish Governor General offering their aid to Spain. It is said that the Spanish soldiers are treated as convicts.

DEWEY AND THE GERMAN CONSUL.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

BERLIN, May 25.—It is semi-officially denied that there is any truth in the story from Manila regarding the German Consul threatening Rear Admiral Dewey for not permitting the landing of provisions from German ships, it being claimed that the Consul said he would land them with the aid of German cruisers, and that the American commander in turn threatened to fire on German warships if they interfered.

DONS AT SANTIAGO

(Copyright 1898 by Associated Press.)

PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, May 25.—The report of the arrival of the Spanish Cape Verde fleet at Santiago de Cuba is correct. The correspondent here of the Associated Press has been able to obtain definite confirmation of this news, but up to the present it has been impossible to obtain any details. The dispatches sent from here to Santiago de Cuba asking for information on the subject remain unanswered.

SPAIN'S PLANS.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A special to the world from Quebec says:

Senior Polo y Bernabe, before he sailed from Quebec for Europe, confided to a friend the original intentions of Admiral Cervera's squadron.

It appears that the Spanish fleet, being acknowledgedly unable to meet the American vessels, was to avoid it and cause all the damage it could do the American coast. Among other places to be bombarded was Portland, and an attempt was to be made to blow up a powder mill near that place.

Senor Polo succeeded in making satisfactory arrangements for the coaling of the fleet, but the agreement was broken owing to American influence in the coal concern, and news of this fact drove the Spanish squadron from its original intention of touching at Cape Breton, and forced it to take refuge at Santiago de Cuba.

Since then the Spanish fleet has left on its journey to Cadiz. Spain's ties will be to trust to fever and the terrible expenses daily incurred by the American Government, and she will not risk a repetition of the Manila disaster.

"In the fall," the late Ambassador said, "Spain will abandon Cuba, after having made her enemy pay dearly for its victory."

QUIET IN MANILA.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

LONDON, May 25.—A dispatch to the Times from Hong Kong says:

Manila is tranquil. The foreign cruisers have agreed upon concerted action for the protection of foreigners in any emergency.

Aguinaldo, the insurgent leader, landed at Cavite on May 19th. The insurgents being without firearms is delaying the proposed attack on the garrison of Manila.

LONG IS JOYFUL.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Secretary of the Navy Long was at the White House twice this morning to see the President, only a few minutes each time. On leaving the second time he made the announcement of the arrival of the battleship Oregon at Jupiter Inlet, Fla., about midnight last night. At the same time Secretary Long, while expressly stating that no official advices had been received of the bottling up of the Spanish fleet in the harbor at Santiago de Cuba by Commodore Schley's squadron, announced that there was every reason to believe that such is the case.

There is little room for doubting the report that Cervera and his vessels are penned in the harbor by Commodore Schley's squadron, and Secretary Long's statement that there was every reason for so believing was supplemented by the President, who, in reply to inquiries from Congressional callers, said that it was undoubtedly true.

Secretary Long had but a brief talk with the President.

The safe arrival of the Oregon at Jupiter had been discounted to some extent by previous announcements of its safety.

Commodore Schley's catching up with the Cervera fleet was a source of much congratulation, for in the conferences that took place in the White House there was a feeling that it brought the end of the war much nearer.

Asked as to the possibility of a ruse of some sort, arising from Admiral Cervera's deliberately entering the harbor under the circumstances, Secretary Long said the purpose of the Spanish could only be conjectured, but that it might be they went into Santiago for coal.

While refraining from discussing specifically the matter of re-enforcements and the dispatch of Admiral Sampson's fleet, now asserted to be in the neighborhood of Havana, to Santiago, Secretary Long has no hesitation in saying Commodore Schley could have whatever aid he wanted.

HAVANA BLOCKADE.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
(Copyright 1898 by Associated Press.)

ON BOARD THE ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH BOAT WANDA, OFF HAVANA, May 24, via Key West, Fla., May 25.—The situation on the blockade from Cardenas, east of Matanzas, to Mariel, west to the city of Havana, remains unchanged.

The American squadron continues to maintain a strict blockade, and for the last five days there has been no fighting at any point and no incident worth noting except that one of the large cruisers fired three shots at a schooner off Havana on Sunday morning and brought her to. She proved to be an American vessel, and after she had displayed her colors she was permitted to proceed without anybody being sent on board to examine her papers.

The light of Morro castle, which it is supposed, has been recently burning for the benefit of the Cape Verde fleet, was put out Sunday night and has not since been burning. There is no military activity along the coast.

The lights at Cardenas are also extinguished. An American gunboat is lying off the entrance of the harbor, near Diana Key, and some of the cruisers are patrolling outside Cardenas harbor.

PORTO RICO IS NOW THE GOAL.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

CHICAGO, May 25.—A special to the News from Washington says: Porto Rico is to be taken. The President has decided that Sampson shall immediately move on that island while Schley guards Cervera. At least 20,000 troops will be sent, and another army is at the same time to enter Cuba, transports now being ready.

From a Cabinet officer it is learned that the haste in ordering the troops and ships to Porto Rico is owing to the fact that the President has learned that the Powers are about to ask that Spain be permitted to withdraw from Cuba and allow peace to be declared.

This intimation came direct from Europe. The President wants to be able to say: "Yes, Spain may withdraw. That's why we made war. But we will hold Porto Rico and the Philippines."

Without a dissenting voice, the Cabinet decided that the greatest possible haste should be made in the invasion.

General Miles reported that Spain now had 13,000 troops in Porto Rico, and that he thought the United States should send at least 20,000 there.

The Secretary of War had a conference with the President, and it was decided that Sampson should be sent straight back to San Juan. The President feared that when Spain lost her fleet she would sue for peace before the United States had the island. He said it would be much better to have Porto Rico when negotiations began.

Secretary Alger said that the army was ready to go to Cuba at any time. When he returned to his office he sent for Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn and General Miles and notified them of the call for 75,000 men and the President asked for an immediate movement of the troops to the islands.

Mr. Meiklejohn has charge of the transportation, and said he was ready to begin. The first men to be sent to Cuba will occupy High and healthy lands and remain until the general occupation of the island begins. Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn and General Miles will hasten the movement of the troops with the greatest possible speed.

The Oregon Safe in Port.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Secretary Long has received an official dispatch announcing the arrival of the battleship Oregon at Jupiter Inlet, Fla.

Her safe arrival was reported immediately to the President. At 9:45 Secretary Long said no word had been received regarding the bottling up of the Spanish fleet at Santiago. He says he fully credits the press dispatches, and has reason to believe that Admiral Cerveras is cooped up in Santiago with Schley outside.

The United States battleship Oregon, which arrived at Jupiter Inlet at 10:30 last night, has left now.

PROCLAMATION CALLING FOR BRAVE SOLDIERS.

McKinley Calls for 75,000 Additional Volunteers and 100,000 More Are Needed.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The President today issued the following proclamation:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES:

A Proclamation:

Whereas, an act of Congress was approved on the 25th day of April, 1898, entitled, "An act declaring that war exists between the United States of America and the Kingdom of Spain," and

Whereas, By an act of Congress entitled "An act to provide for temporarily increasing the military and for other purposes," approved April 22, 1898, the President is authorized, in order to raise a volunteer army, to issue his proclamation calling for volunteers to serve in the army of the United States.

Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, President of the United States, by virtue of the power vested in me by the action of Congress and the laws, and deeming sufficient occasion to exist, have thought fit to call forth, and hereby do call forth, volunteers to the aggregate number of 75,000, in addition to the volunteers called forth by my proclamation of the 25th day of April in the present year; the same to be apportioned, as far as practicable, among the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia, according to population, and to serve for two years, unless sooner discharged. The proportion of each army and the details of the enlistment and organization will be made known through the War Department.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 25th day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-second.

WILLIAM McKINLEY.

By the President.

WILLIAM R. DAY,
Secretary of State.

Secretary Alger said this afternoon that the additional recruits will not be secured from the National Guard but that enlistsments will be open.

The regulations referred to in the proclamation under which the enlistments will be conducted have not yet been prepared and it is thought that there is no occasion for hurry in the matter, until the full draft called for in the first proclamation has been filled.

It is further said that the President may issue a further call for another 100,000 volunteers.

This action shows that the campaign will be prosecuted actively and vigorously from now on.

SPANISH TRAPPED.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—There seems to be no longer any doubt that the Spanish fleet now in Santiago harbor is hemmed in by Commodore Schley's squadron and that its escape is almost, if not quite, impossible.

Members of the Cabinet are exultant over today's news, and although they are not willing to make public the source of their information, they regard it as perfectly trustworthy. They are not willing to state the exact position of Sampson's fleet, but they do say that it is acting in connection with Schley and can come to his relief at any time, should it be required.

The published report that another and more formidable fleet is en route from Cadiz to the relief of the imprisoned squadron is no tcredited by members of the administration. Should this prove to be the fact, the move would be welcomed by our naval authorities, as it certainly would result, it is said, in the destruction of two instead of one of the fleets.

The situation of Santiago harbor is such that our gunboats, which are available for the purpose, could easily prevent the escape of the Spaniards, thus relieving a considerable part of both Sampson's and Schley's fleets for operations elsewhere.

The safe trrival of the Oregon at Jupiter Inlet, Fla., is spoken of with great pleasure.

Captain Clark in his message to the Secretary of the Navy, reports his safe arrival there and says he is in condition for immediate active operations at the front.

The Oregon left here at 4 o'clock this morning. An effort was made to interview the officers, but they declined to talk and it was impossible to get any information whatever. Ensign Johnson came ashore for orders, but he declined to be interviewed. He reported all on board were in good health.

Taken altogether the news of the day is highly satisfactory, and it is confidently expected that should the Spanish attempt to force a passage to the sea the news of the destruction of their fleet may be expected at any time.

IN FINE SHAPE AT CHATTANOOGA.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 25.—Battle exercises of the First Division of the First Corps were included in today's work at Chattanooga.

The exercises began at 6 o'clock and were witnessed by Inspector-Generals and many others.

By actual count, the number of men now in Chickamauga Park is 38,884. There are thirty-five regiments of infantry, two of cavalry and three batteries of artillery. Ohio has furnished the greatest number of men. She has six regiments, with 5,328 men in the field.

Pennsylvania, which ranks next, also has six regiments, but a slightly smaller number of men.

As far as equipment is concerned, the army will be ready to move on Cuba within one or two days. Captain Rockwell, Chief Ordnance Officer of the army, states that he has received notice that ample equipment will arrive during the next few days. A half million rounds of ammunition have already arrived, and the balance of the equipment will come as fast as the roads can haul it.

The row of stands, restaurants, etc., located just outside the park, near the battlefield station, is assuming large proportions. The row is known as the "Midway," and is liberally patronized. Two theaters are in course of construction.

A corps of the Red Cross Society is now being organized in Chattanooga for service in the camp.

Forty cars of provisions arrived in Chattanooga today. About 2,500 pounds were sent to the park yesterday. Excellent order is now being preserved both in the park and in the city.

The Eighth Regiment, New York Infantry, 1,000 men, under Col. Henry Chauncey, Jr., arrived this morning. This regiment is the oldest military organization in the United States, organized in 1673.

DEWEY MUCH IN NEED OF TROOPS.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says:

Official advices received from Admiral Dewey, while confirming the belief that his supreme control of Manila harbor is as firm as ever, indicate that the necessity for re-enforcements with a powerful military force is daily increasing and is not safely to be delayed through any ordinary difficulties that may be encountered. General Merritt's foresight in demanding 15,000 for the first expedition and securing the President's promise that 25,000 additional soldiers would be cheerfully furnished if they were required, is indicated, in the opinion of military authorities, and throughout the day preparations to expedite the departure of the advance guard and to secure the necessary transports for the remaining forces were again actively hurried by War Department officials.

The reference in Admiral Dewey's dispatch to the forces being organized by Aguinaldo had the effect of disturbing the equanimity of o cials whose ideas of permanent occupation of the Philippines by United States forces have developed definitely in the last week, but the benefits to be gained through Admiral Dewey's amicable relations with the insurgents were clearly recognized.

No disposition whatever is manifested to place too much reliance in that sort of assistance, after the discouraging experience with the Cubans, who were unable to fulfill the promises made in their behalf before hostilities began. A determination was expressed on all sides to make Admiral Dewey independent of all foreign assistance at the earliest possible time.

CANNOT ESCAPE.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

KEY WEST, May 25.—There is nothing definitely known here about possible operations in eastern Cuba, but the view is accepted at this place as a fact that the Spanish fleet is blockaded in Santiago harbor, in which event the naval opinion here is that the Spanish fleet has "committed suicide."

It is now no breach of confidence to say that Commodore Schley and Rear Admiral Sampson are believed to have Admiral Cervera within their reach, and if the Spaniards are in Santiago harbor they can be blockaded and starved out. A single heavy American vessel can hold the harbor's narrow exit, through which the Spaniards could emerge only singly.

The Spanish fleet is very fast, but is not composed of heavily-armored vessels. Indeed, any of Admiral Sampson's battleships could, in the opinion of naval experts, engage the entire Spanish fleet with a good chance of coming off victorious. The American commander has been not only prepared for battle but for the chase as well. This is the view here, where the movements of the American fleet are approximately well-known among naval officers and people at Key West generally. There is the most thorough confidence in the skill and energy of both the American commanders, and it is believed that triumph in the West Indian waters is assured.

RACE OF THE OREGON

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A special dispatch to the Evening World from Jupiter, Fla., says that Lieutenant A. R. Davis of the battleship Oregon came ashore last night.

"Our race," said Lieutenant Davis, "was a most exciting one, especially after we left Bahia, for we knew then a possibility of interception. Captain Clark, however, kept the little fleet in constant readiness, and had we run into the Spanish fleet we would have been heard from. As it is, we are all happy that our race from San Francisco is now ended, and that we will have a chance to take part in the fleets now looking for the Spaniards."

The Marietta and Buffalo are with the Oregon.

MINING SAN JUAN HARBOR.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A dispatch to the Herald from St. Thomas, D. W. I., says:

Private advices which have reached United States Consul Hanna from Porto Rico show that new mines are being laid in the harbor of San Juan.

Torpedoes are being placed in the exact spots occupied by our vessels during the bombardment. An unusually heavy mine is connected with the shore from the place where the battleship Iowa lay. Mines are also being placed at other harbors of Porto Rico.

Consul Hanna is very energetic and popular here.

GOVERNMENT FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A special to the Herald from Washington says:

Major General Merritt, who is to go to the Philippines as military governor, is expected to govern them under martial law until Congress decides what shall finally be done with them.

There is little doubt that they will be permanently held by the United States. In view of the jealousy existing among European nations, many Senators and Representatives believe that it will be more difficult to relinquish control of the Philippines than to hold them.

In view of this belief, some consideration is already being given to the problem of devising a civil government for the islands when the war is ended. The extension of the territorial system of the United States to the Philippines is out of the question, as it will be a great many years before the inhabitants are capable of any degree of self-government.

The proposition that seems to meet most favor is to have the government of the islands administered by a board of three commissioners, to be composed of two civilians and one officer of the United States Army, as in the district of Columbia. When the number of Americans in the islands increases sufficiently, a very limited form of popular government might be introduced, to be expanded in the future.

Tariff taxes are to be collected by military authorities and are to be turned into the Treasury of the United States. As the war progresses the same system of collecting taxes is to be applied to such Spanish territory as may be occupied, thus compelling the conquered territory to aid in defraying the expenses of the war.

Until such time as Congress shall take action formally annexing the Philippines or any other conquered Spanish territory to the United States, all goods coming from such territory will be taxed at United States custom houses just the same as goods from other countries.

TROUBLE LOOKED FOR IN MANILA.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A special to the Times from Washington says:

Important and disquieting news has been received from Europe and Dewey. It caused an immediate and strenuous effort to be made to hasten the forwarding of troops.

One Republican Senator, who discussed the Philippines situation with the President, said, after he came out of the White House: "From the present outlook I do not expect to see the Monterey in these waters again in ten years. If it becomes a matter of deciding whether troops shall be first hurried to Manila or to Cuba, they will go to the former, as the situation there is vastly more critical."

TRYING TO RAISE FOOD IN HAVANA.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana says:

Reports are being made by the authorities to provide an adequate supply of food for the residents of the city and the soldiers, provisions having become very scarce since importations from the United States ceased. Sweet potatoes and other vegetables are being planted in large quantities in the near neighborhood. Owing to recent rains it is the hope and belief that the crops gathered from this source will be sufficient for the necessities of Havana.

The Norwegian steamer Uto reached Sagua last Friday and will load sugar for New York. The Norwegian steamer Brabberg, which left Sagua last Friday, took off forty-seven passengers, forty-two of whom were foreigners, most of them Americans.

Three American warships were taking soundings off Bahia Honda yesterday, and on Sunday they were seen off there exchanging signals.

All classes here have noted with pleasure the honor granted by Queen Victoria to Sir Alexander Gollan, the British Consul-General in Havana, making him a Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George.

NEGRO THUGS AT KEY WEST.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

KEY WEST, Fla., May 25.—James J. Dorsey was found dead early this morning in a yard within half a block of a Key West hotel. His face and head were bruised beyond recognition. This, together with assaults by negroes upon sailors last night, has aroused the people to demand that they be put under martial law.

There are but few policemen here who are paid in city scrip $50 a month, which is discounted one-half. These police have served notice on the city authorities that they will resign.

Dorsey was an old-time Florida mechanic. He had received a considerable money in wages last night, and he was undoubtedly murdered for his money.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A special dispatch from Hong Kong says that Admiral Dewey at Manila has sent the cruiser Baltimore and the little gunboat Callao, recently captured from the Spaniards, to Iloilo to retake the American Saranac. This vessel was seized by the Spaniards on April 24th at Iloilo. There she had been unloading a cargo of 3,000 tons of coal, which was also seized by the Spaniards.

EAST OAKLAND RAILROAD SUES ALAMEDA COUNTY.

Seeks to Recover Taxes Paid Under a Vigorous Protest.

Judge Hall is today occupied with the suit of the Oakland Consolidated Street Railway Company against the County of Alameda to recover $791.25 taxes paid under protest.

The point of contention is based upon the action of the County Assessor, who, it is alleged, assessed the separate franchises of the Railroad Company when they had already been assessed under the head of personal property. It is claimed that this is not only unjust but in direct violation of the State law as per Section 3,650 of the Political Code.

Judgment was given for the defendant, with the requirement that the county shall rebate $177 which is admittedly due the plaintiff.

MERCHANTS MEET AND TALK OVER LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Cannot Furnish Funds for the C. E. Convention.

The Directorate, However, Is in Hearty Accord With the Measure.

TUNNEL DAY WAS A SUCCESS.

Senator Stratton Writes Relative to Attaching Public Salaries.

The directors of the Merchants' Exchange met in regular session last evening at the Club rooms in the Central Bank building, President Arper presiding.

The question of raising funds to be employed in securing for this city the next State Christian Endeavor Convention was met with a chilly response although the entire directorate expressed in unmistakable terms its hearty approval of the proposed measure, and desired to see the assemblage of young people brought to the city.

Director Arper believed that it was a grand enterprise and would undoubtedly benefit many persons in this city, but he did not believe the Exchange had available funds to expend in this direction. He called attention to the great tunnel burden now resting heavily upon the organization, and believed that this should be cared for before reaching out to new ventures. Moreover, Director Arper very earnestly opposed the proposition on the ground that the Exchange would be simply fighting other men's battles. He believed that the hotel keepers, street railway corporations, restrauant keepers and those who would be directly benefitted by such a convention should first put out coin for the affair before the Exchange should take it under consideration. He did not see why the Exchange should pack water to mix other men's mortar.

After discussion by directors Brown, Schleuter and Sinclair, it was decided to authorize Secretary Pearce to communicate with the Endeavor Committee, stating the impossibility of furnishing the desired amount of $100, but that as individuals the Exchange would lend its support both moral and financial.

A communication from Senator Fred Stratton relating to the attachment of wages of public employees was read by Secretary Pearce. It was as follows:

"Replying to your letter of the 17th inst., with reference to attachment of wages of public employes I will state that I will reintroduce the bill in the Senate, and I enclose you a copy of the same herewith, which is like that introduced at the last session.

"You will notice that I have not incorporated any amendment exempting attaches or members of the legislature. It occurs to me that the argument that such officials will be adversely interested by the passage of the law is met by the fact that the present bill would only take effect 60 days after passage or approval, which would carry the operation of the law beyond the time of the adjournment of the legislature.

"I hope you will, say within 60 or 90 days of the meeting of the legislature, send the bill throughout this State so that the various bodies interested may obtain the support and good offices of the members of the legislature from their respective localities.

"I think it would be a good idea to call also a meeting of the Alameda delegation before we proceed to Sacramento in order that there may be unanimity of action. Very truly yours,

"F. S. STRATTON."

Director Sohst reported for the Tunnel Committee that the big benefit had come and gone. He pronounced it a great success although inclement weather interfered in some measure with the attendance. It is believed that nearly $5,000 was realized from the affair.

At this juncture, the directors ran out of eloquence and adjourned until next Tuesday evening.

BAPTISTS WILL MEET NEXT IN SAN FRANCISCO.

National Convention Is Arranged for 1899.

Greatest Speakers in the Pulpit Will Address the Gathering.

A private dispatch from Rochester, New York, where the great Baptist anniversaries have been in session for a week past, announces that San Francisco has been selected as the place of assemblage for May, 1899.

The American Baptist Missionary Union, which is the national foreign missionary society of that denomination, voted unanimously in response to its invitation to hold the next annual session with the First Baptist Church of San Francisco. This action assures the fact that the four great societies, the American Baptist Missionary Union, the American Baptist Home Mission Society, the American Baptist Publication Society, and the American Baptist Education Society will hold their anniversary meetings in the Golden Gate city next May. The Woman's Baptist Home Mission Society, whose headquarters is in Chicago, will also hold its year celebration in connection with the anniversaries of the other societies.

These five societies represent the entire Baptist denomination in America, with the exclusion of the Southern States, and this action will insure the visit to our State and city not only of thousands of the leading Baptists of the country, but also of as many more who will take advantage of the reduced rates to the Coast.

The speakers at these largely attended meetings will be representative of the highest thought and most loquent speech in the pulpit.

Weather Forecast.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Weather forecast: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; fresh westerly wind.

WEDNESDAY.....MAY 25, 1898.

It looks as if the Nicaragua Canal will be a go this time. Senator Morgan can be relied upon to stay with it to a finish.

A Minnesota widow sued for $1,000 damages because a man hugged her and was awarded $1. All the rest went for naught.

Admiral Carvera has earned for himself the title of The Wizard of the Sea. He appears to have Herman's vanishing lady trick down to perfection.

Some of the flags that are flying in San Francisco badly need washing. A number of buildings appear to be flying the black flag and as some of them are dry goods stores it is not altogether unappropriate.

The patriotism of the young Native Sons is shown by the number of habeas corpus proceedings commenced to compel the return home of youths under age. Three or four cases are up every day in the United States courts.

Look out for the impostors who are out collecting under the guise of the Red Cross. The ladies of the Society report that a number of fraudulent canvassers are in the field so be sure that you do not get on the list of the duped.

War makes rapid promotions. Take the case of General Merritt for instance. He only graduated from West Point in 1861 yet in 1863 he had won his way to a Brigadier-Generalship. That's the kind of record to spur on our young soldiers in the present campaign.

The California boys will begin to feel as if they are at home when they look out into Manila bay and see the Monterey lying there. The monitor is expected to start within the next four or five days and will be rushed through as fast as her limited speed capacity will permit.

France is said to be endeavoring to purchase the Canary Islands from Spain for $30,000,000. If she wants them very badly she had better hurry up and get the deal through, for otherwise our warships as soon as they get through with Cervera's squadron are liable to drop along and scoop them in.

The 1,400 convicts at Sing Sing were notified the other day by the Governor of the prison of the war that is going on to free Cuba and of Dewey's glorious victory at Manila, whereupon they are said to have burst forth with cheering and applause that lasted several minutes. They could appreciate Cuba wanting to be free—they would like a little liberty themselves.

Of all the ridiculous pieces of "news" printed since the war started, the palm must be awarded to the dispatch from Sheffield, England, declaring that American agents are in the British Isles endeavoring to get men to desert from the English army and join the United States forces, the object being according to the story, so that America can obtain the nucleus for a well-organized army. The item is too nonsensical to be worthy of comment; it cuts its own throat.

The bright sunshine weather is more than welcome to the encamped volunteers for they have had a pretty hard time of it of late. One death from pneumonia, two men dying from the same complaint and several hundred suffering from severe coughs and colds tells the tale of the effect of the unexpected hardships. As a large percentage of those roughing it came directly from warm, comfortable homes it is easy to account for the way many of them have been knocked out.

What with the transportation of troops and the Klondike trade, the spring of '98 will be a memorable one in Pacific Coast shipping circles. To meet the exigencies of one or the other branch of demands every available ship has been pressed into service and even then there has not been enough to go around. The fact that Secretary Melklejohn of the War Department says that it may become necessary to impress ships to act as transports gives the best idea of the dearth of accommodations here.

THE DESTINY OF OUR COMMERCE.

The story that has been sent over the wires from Washington to the effect that the administration has decided on the permanent occupation of the Philippines is important if true. It means more to the Pacific Coast than to any other part of the country, for the obtaining of a foreign possession in that part of the world would certainly be followed by the annexation of Hawaii, the construction of a Pacific Cable and the dawn of a new era in Western commerce. With the Philippines as an operating point, our trading interests with China would have to be expanded—in short, a complete commercial revolution would be effected from which the Pacific Coast would reap the greatest advantages.

The rumors must not be accepted as a positive settlement of the matter, though, by any means, for even if the administration should take the stand credited to it, Congress would have to settle the question later, for the President can only act arbitrarily in such matters during war times. It is certain, too, that opposition of a very vehement description would be raised to such a course from many quarters especially as there are powerful interests in this country that might consider such a move as detrimental to them. Then there is the element opposed to a war of conquest, the Democrats would probably follow suit, in fact, there is no question that merry time would follow the introduction of the permanent occupation measure.

The Pacific Coast is bound to gather in the trade of the Western world sooner or later, and whether so momentous and radical a change is to be brought about all at once at this time or to be subjected to the somewhat slow processes of progress is the question. There can be no question, though, that our commercial destiny lies bound up in the rich treasure lands of far Cathay, so there will be many who will strenuously oppose the relinquishing of so golden an opportunity as the present warfare has placed in our hands.

J. C. MARTIN'S DEATH.

The death of Attorney J. C. Martin is a loss not only to the social elements of the community, but more particularly to its business life, for in the practice of his profession he was in many ways without equal in the State. He was a man of abnormally keen mind and quick wit, and this in addition to a thorough knowledge of the law gave him weapons that he knew well how to turn to advantage in the hour of conflict.

Mr. Martin's reputation was not merely local. As counsel for many corporation interests, attention was attracted to him throughout the country, for in addition to his appearance before the United States Supreme Court, he was on several occasions selected by the Southern Pacific Company to represent it at meetings of the Transcontinental Association and of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

As a citizen, Mr. Martin was popular and respected. Although taking a deep interest in all local matters, he never dabbled in politics and studiously kept himself aloof from every factional element. He was essentially a home man and most of his time outside of his office hours was spent in the handsome residence that bore tribute to the fruits of his industry. He never rallied from the shock he sustained by the sudden death of his wife a couple of years ago, and the fatal stroke that carried him away cannot be considered to have come unexpectedly, for it was but the climax of a general breaking-down of health brought on, many believe, by the great grief that overcame him at the time of his domestic bereavement.

President McKinley is showing that despite all this talk about it being necessary to get "a pull" in order to secure any of the important military commands, he does not propose to make them absolutely subservient to politics. His announcement that he will not give the Brigadier-Generalship that is to go to California to anyone not possessed of a war record, disposes of a large number of the candidates and makes Colonel Otis's chances look better than ever. There is no questioning the fact that as far as his own personal desires are concerned the President would like to appoint his old comrade-in-arms Otis and the only reason that doubtless prevents his doing so is the opposition dispatches that have been sent from this State, added to the fact that the California Congressional delegation outside of Senator White declines to advocate the claims of the Angeleno.

The expedition that is to search for Andree has started out from Stockholm. If they locate him alive it would be better from a business proposition than discovering another Klondike, for he would be the biggest drawing card of the century on the lecture platform. Although the majority of people think that because nothing has been heard of him since he set forth in his balloon last July he is certainly dead, there is the bare possibility that he may be living in one of those far northern Indian villages from which communication with civilization is next to impossible and it is on this ground of speculation that the expedition has set forth.

Memorial Day this year has an unusually significant meeting for even as we are commemorating the deeds of the heroes who have gone before, others are giving up their lives for their country. The remembrance of this will undoubtedly mean the assemblage of a vast throng at the impressive exercises to be held at Mountain View Cemetery on Monday next and a forerunner of this can be seen in the exceeding interest being taken in the preliminary arrangements.

The Santa Cruz Sentinel and a lot of the other interior papers are amusing themselves with an item that is going the rounds about patriotic girls who wear red, white, and blue stockings. Instead of applauding this sort of thing though, it should be condemned for it means trampling on the American colors.

General Miles is said to be figuring on the Presidential nomination in 1900 and hopes that the present hostilities will give him an opportunity to pose as the people's choice from a military standpoint. The general has treasured in his heart for many years the hope that some day his post office address will be the White House and when he was quartered in Los Angeles in 1889 it first quietly leaked out that his ambitions were in that direction. If the fates have determined that he is to succeed in his desires there certainly will never be a better opportunity than the present one.

Those who have anything like fruit crops this year will get a good deal of what loose money there is around. Commission men and cannery proprietors are scouring the State for supplies and prices are climbing up steadily in proportion of course to the demands. Apricots are ranging between $40 and $50 a ton and currants and cherries bring better prices than have been quoted for many years. The few are to profit this year at the expense of many.

The Oregonians were given a tumultuous reception as they passed through San Francisco yesterday en route to their transports and the tears glistening in the eyes of many of the men showed how deeply they appreciated the feeling of the Californians towards them. The webfooters certainly cannot complain of a lack of hospitality during their stay here for we even had rain for them so that they could feel at home.

Money may make the average "mare go" but its effect on the Mayor of San Francisco is to make him balk. He is crusading for the new charter on the ground that its operation will save many thousands of dollars annually to the people of San Francisco. Despite this very seductive argument it looks though as if the push element will beat it.

There may be a James G. Blaine in the White House yet. The old statesman's son has shown that he is made of the right kind of stuff by going to the front with Merritt and as he is said to be a bright, capable young man and full of ambition there is no reason why he should not prove a worthy successor of his illustrious sire.

Once again the increasing prosperity of the Pacific Coast is evidenced indisputably. The reports submitted to the Controller of currency from the national banks of the metropolis of the State show an increase of 1.65 per cent in the reserve funds and an advance in individual deposits from $11,463,678 to $12,108,722.

Santa Rosa did not, like Los Angeles and some of the other interior towns, trump up as an excuse this year for a lack of necessary local enthusiasm that the war prevented the holding of the customary annual celebration. She has had her rose fair just the same as ever and a good one too.

The annual issued by the San Francisco Chronicle says: "Spain has a temperature of 200 degrees below zero." That probably accounts for it's always being such a cold day when the reporters try to collect large sized bills on their space stories.

One of the Oregon volunteers while undergoing the medical examination was found to have his heart on the right side. That's nothing—a good many of them will have their hearts in their mouths when the guns start firing.

By the way shouldn't there be a warship to convoy the transports across the Pacific? There may be some Spanish gunboats cruising about that have not been figured on.

In Honor of Victoria.

Many people from this side of the bay attended the banquet in honor of the Queen's birthday at the Occidental Hotel last night. Captain Metcalfe of Alameda responded to the toast of "The Marine Service," and Alfred Wilkie sang "The Death of Nelson" and "You'll Remember Me." The banquet was largely attended.

HOLIDAY FOR MEN OF KNIFE AND CLEAVER.

Butchers Hold High Revel at Their Picnic.

Dancing, Games, and Fast and Funny Races Enjoyed.

THOUSANDS CHEER THEIR MARCH

Scenes and Incidents of the Celebration of the Day.

This is Butchers' Day, the one day in all the year when cleaver, knife and steel are laid aside, and the stones whence we procure the succulent steak and chop, or the seductive pigs' feet and mysterious frankfurter are closed against all comers. It is the one holiday that belongs entirely to the wearers of the long, white apron, and they know how to celebrate it.

At 7:15 o'clock this morning the members of the Journeymen Butchers' Protective Association began to gather at Fraternal Hall on Washington street, and at 7:40 o'clock, headed by the Fifth Regiment Band, started upon its march to the foot of Broadway, where the Creek Route boat awaited them.

There were about 150 men and boys in the procession, all clad in the white costume of their craft, and each bearing in his hand an American ensign. As the procession proceeded down Broadway it was loudly applauded. The officers of the Butchers' Protective Association who were prominent in the parade were: President Tom Ford, Vice-President Joe Pickford, Recording Secretary J. Douglas, Financial Secretary W. Wilkinson, and Treasurer W. Reidig. Fred Becker of the Grand Central Market occupied a barouche near the head of the procession.

The Oakland butchers arrived in San Francisco at 9 o'clock and marched up Market street to O'Farrell and Stockton streets where they took position in the second division composed of the members from this county.

The parade started at 9:30 o'clock and marched down Stockton to Sixth, countermarched to Kearney, thence to California, and through California and Market streets.

The procession comprised six divisions under command of Grand Marshal Henny Moffatt, with A. H. Brod as aid. The First Division was the Butchers' Board of Trade; the Second, Oakland and Alameda butchers; Third, Journeyman Butchers of San Francisco; Fourth, employees of Legallet's tannery; Fifth, First avenue, Butchertown; Sixth, Fifth avenue, Butchertown.

About 2,000 men participated in the parade. The 10:30 boat was taken to Oakland, where trains were in waiting to convey the holiday makers to Emeryville and Shell-Mound Park, the latter place of amusement and the Oakland race track having been engaged for the celebration. Games and foot-races having been arranged to take place at Shell Mound and races between horses owned by butchers at the race track, trotting and running, free for all.

At Shell Mound two dancing platforms were quickly occupied by votaries of Terpsichore and they danced and danced and danced, until the last waltz was played.

At the race track the programme includes the following events:

An "Old Horse" race, one-fourth mile, last horse to win. A steer race, and trotting, pacing, and running races, six in all; a running steer race, a vaquero's running race, and a butchers' cart race. A large crowd is in attendance and Butchers' Day of 1898 is more successful than in any former year.

JEDDAH IS THE WINNER OF THE DERBY.

A 100 to 1 Shot Carries Off the Great Prize.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

EPSOM, England, May 25.—The 218th renewal of the Derby stakes (the classic Derby), of 6,000 sovereigns was run at Epsom Downs today and was won by Mr. J. W. Larnach's chestnut colt, Jeddah, by Jannisary, out of Pilgramage.

The race was for 3-year-old colts, by subscription of fifty sovereigns each, half forfeit, the owner of the winner to receive 500 sovereigns, the owner of the second to receive 300 sovereigns and the owner of the third horse to receive 200 sovereigns of the stake. The course was about a mile and a half.

Derby day opened fine and pleasantly cool. There were the usual scenes on the roads, and immense crowds of people gathered on the Downs. The remarkable number of runners, eighteen unequaled in the last twenty-three years, coupled with the openness of the result, added greatly to their interest in the event.

The result in detail was as follows:

J. W. Larnach's chestnut colt Jeddah, by Janissary, out of Pilgramage, won; Duke of Westminster's brown colt Batt, by Rheen, out of Vampire, second; Prince of Wales' bay colt Dunlop, by Ayreshire, out of Fortuna, third.

Sir Tatton Sykes' bay colt Disraeli, the favorite, led until passing Sherwoods, when Elfin drew to the front and led until descending the hill. Then Batt assumed the lead, but was joined by the Duke of Portland's bay colt, Wantage, and Jeddah, a quarter of a mile from home, Jeddah winning by three-quarters of a length.

A length and a half separated second and third horses. The Duke of Devonshire's chestnut colt, Dujodonne, was fourth. The time was 2 minutes 37 seconds. The betting previous to the start was 100 to 1 against Jeddah, 100 to 1 against Dunlop and 10 to 1 against Batt.

Previous to the race the chief interest appeared to center in J. W. Foger's American bay colt Archduke II, by Luke Blackburn, out of Duchess (by Kingfisher), a half brother of Clifford, a horse of which the public knew little except reports of trails, including a supposed phenomenal performance against History, the winner of the great Metropolitan stakes. The Americans were said to be supporting Archduke II heavily, and it was recalled that it is just a century since Archduke I won the Derby.

The other American horses were the Lorillard-Beresford stables' entry Elfkin, a bay colt by Sensation, out of Equality, and August Belmont's chestnut colt Bridegroom II. The Prince of Wales, accompanied by a large party, was present at the races.

PENNSYLVANIA'S TROOPS GRATEFUL.

Adjutant Scott Says This State Is the Most Hospitable of All.

Ex-Assemblyman Clinton Dodge was among the number waiting to greet the Pennsylvania troops when they pulled into Sixteenth street station last night. He was personally acquainted with Adjutant Scott, and the latter voiced the sentiments of his men when he told Mr. Dodge that in all the States of the Union the troops had been cordially received, but in no State had they encountered such hospitality and enthusiasm as they met in California. Nothing, he added could exceed the boys' appreciation of the numerous kindnesses bestowed upon them.

NO PAGEANT WILL ATTEND HIS FUNERAL.

The Services Over J. C. Martin's Remains Will Be Private.

Many Attorneys Recall His Several Acts of Kindness.

WILL BE MISSED FOR YEARS.

Not Since His Wife's Death Has the Deceased Shown Much Activity.

The funeral of the late James C. Martin will take place from his home, 484 Prospect avenue, to-morrow, at 1 o'clock P. M. The services will be of a private character.

After the services at the Martin home the body will be brought to the Broadway railway station, where, at 1:50, a special funeral train will be in waiting, which will be taken across the bay upon one of the train ferry boats and the funeral party, without change of cars, will be taken direct to Cypress Lawn Cemetery, San Mateo county, where the remains will be cremated, in accordance with the expressed wish of the deceased. The honorary pall-bearers will be:

Messrs. A. A. Moore, J. P. Garlick, G. M. Shaw, W. J. Robinson and Mr. Stevens. The officiating clergyman will be Rev. John Bakewell of Trinity Episcopal Church.

It is not today, nor tomorrow, that James C. Martin will be missed by his associates. He has created a place for himself in legal circles that cannot be filled at will and for years those whom he served so faithfully will regret his somewhat early death.

When great cases are called in the courts involving the biggest corporations in this State, the lobby, the bar, and bench will expect to see the unassuming attorney whose hearing and exactness have made him famous—but they will be disappointed.

It has been said by some of the late attorney's closest friends, that his life went out in reality, about three years ago, when the noble woman who had been his life partner for a quarter of a century was called to eternal rest. The oaths exchanged between young James C. Martin, District Attorney of Butte county, and Miss Annie Phipps before the altar at Oroville in 1869 have never been broken in letter or spirit and when death ended the union temporarily, the sun of J. C. Martin's life had set forever. The hitherto vivacious, active man became a victim of apoplexy and for three years he has been chiefly engaged in fighting off sickness. It would have been a far easier task to woo recovery had the mind of the patient rendered the usual assistance. But it did not and the bereaved man showed about an equal desire to live and to join her who had gone. Strong in this love-in-death, three years were passed in battering health and then came the reunion beyound.

Fond of his home, fond of his children, J. C. Martin kept his married son and daughter under the same roof with himself, and the beautiful home on Prospect avenue contained all that wherein the deceased found rest and pleasure.

The home life of the deceased must necessarily remain of a somewhat private nature, but his public life will live for generations. In that arena where men battle with brains and intellect, J. C. Martin was a leader. He had more patience and reserve force than any other man at the bar. With his inseparable spectacles in one hand and his small, green eyes fixed on the jury, Mr. Martin presented a figure that is not easily forgotten. He never shouted, but frequently whispered and relied on facts and logic rather than noise and display. His small figure contrasted strongly with his large intellect, and many who smiled at the slight figure when a great case opened, retired, chagrined, at its close. In all the details and intricacies of corporation law, Mr. Martin was without a superior in the West, and the Southern Pacific Company sent him to all points when their valuable interests needed legal protection.

The lawyers of Alameda county can tell many anecdotes and of many acts of kindness in which J. C. Martin figured.

Darwin C. De Golia told yesterday of the manner in which the deceased had helped him in his very first case, many years ago. De Golia had just been admitted to the bar and was appointed by the court to defend a prisoner. The young lawyer was taken by surprise and knew not how to proceed. Mr. Martin was in the court and noticed De Golia's plight. Going up to the novice at law, Mr. Martin nudged him and whispered, "Ask for two days' continuance to read the information." The sage advice was followed and De Golia relieved.

Mr. Martin was remarkable for the evenness of his disposition, and for him to be excited or angry was the rarest of events. Some attorneys say they do not believe he was ever so, but one of his close friends says this is a mistake, and that he would not brook a downright insult. On one occasion, when he was trying a case in court some one sitting across the table from Mr. Martin called him a liar. His revenge was thoroughly original and characteristic. He was holding a pen in his hand at the time, and this he dipped in the ink bottle, lifting a large quantity of the fluid, and this he dashed in his opponent's face, besmearing his features with the blackness, as a sort of indication of his moral character.

At one time he was the counsel for the Contra Costa Company, and it is recorded that when this company was economizing in salaries President Pierce told Mr. Martin his salary would be reduced to $100 a month. "Get another lawyer, then," said Mr. Martin. "But," said President Pierce, "you couldn't desert the ship in this emergency." "The ship must pay the sailors, Mr. Pierce, or they won't work," said Martin, and his salary was not touched.

The associates of the dead attorney who were of the inner circle of this acquaintanceship, loved him with a great and earnest love. In speaking of his demise, many glowing tributes are daily paid to his memory.

Judge Emil Nusbaumer said: "Poor Jimmy! He and I were to have gone to the mountains together in June. I had been trying for two or three years to get him to go with me, and this year he had promised. I told him about the water ouzels and he couldn't resist them. Poor Jimmy, he was fond of all nature and was especially interested in birds and animals. His was a very gentle nature and he admired and loved to read the "Uncle Remus" stories of Joel Chandler Harris, and would enjoy hugely the deeds of "Br'er Rabbit." Another favorite of his was "Mowgli," the wolf-boy hero of Rudyard Kipling's "Jungle Books." He never tired of the simple adventures of Kipling's hero and his friends.

"My first experience with Martin was very funny, though a man must be a lawyer to thoroughly appreciate the humor. Martin was a man of wonderful resources in the trial of cases, but on several occasions his shrewdness and cunning came to naught, because of his sense of humor.

"In 1884 he defended a fellow in my court (I was then Justice of the Peace of Oakland township), who had been sued for a livery bill. We tried the case until 10 o'clock at night before a jury, Martin objecting and obstructing the procedure at every point possible. Then it developed that his client was a minor, a fact Martin had known from the beginning and that he had simply been dragging the case on for the amusement the exertions of the prosecution afforded him.

"I appointed at once one of the spectators guardian ad litem, and he refusing to answer, I gave judgment for the defendant by default.

Another case of where his sense of the ridiculous was a boomerang was in a case he defended before City Justice A. W. Bishop, since Postmaster of Oakland. The suit was brought to recover a claim that had been fully satisfied by Martin's client, who held a receipt in full for it. The plaintiff was a man universally detested in this community, and Martin, to add as much expense as possible to the bill of costs the plaintiff would have to pay, demanded a jury.

"The plaintiff swore his bill through, and Martin having asked him no questions, rested his case; so did the defense. Martin relied upon the verdict being for the plaintiff, whereupon he would appeal, and, producing the receipt in evidence in the Superior Court, secure a verdict there and throw the costs on the plaintiff.

"The jury, in view of the character of the plaintiff and ignoring the evidence brought in a verdict for the defendant. Martin had $24 costs to pay. He'd tell these stories on himself with a quiet humor that was irresistible.

"He and I were to have gone to Sims in June. He wanted to see the water ouzels. They're a bird that lives along the banks of streams, sings beautifully, and, diving, will run along the bottom of a stream against the current for quite a distance."

Judge E. M. Gibson, who had known Mr. Martin for years, said of him:

"Mr. Martin was an exceptional man. He had a very gentle character. He was a man who did not care to create antagonisms, and was an able lawyer. He was simple in his habits and entirely free from ostentation. He had a wonderful sense of humor, and a faculty of drawing out every ridiculous feature of his opponent's case, or of the characteristics of opposing witnesses, and this, too, so as to leave the object of his wit in doubt as to whether he had been complimented or had been made a butt of.

"The Todd will case was tried before me. A brother of the deceased contested the will and produced a forged document as the true will of his brother. Mr. Martin was counsel for the defense and he made the most of the weak nature of the plaintiff's case. In his argument he introduced some original poetry, a parody on 'Cock Robin,' 'Who Wrote the Will?' that was one of the most humorous pieces that I have ever heard. The plaintiff went to State's prison for the forgery of the bogus will afterward."

Ex-Judge A. L. Frick said: "Nothing I can say of Mr. Martin can do justice to him. The bar feels that in his death it has lost not only one of its brightest and ablest members, but also one whose character and integrity made him an example worthy of being followed."

And this sentiment is that which is echoed today by every member of the Alameda county bar, and also by all of those whose happy fortune it was to have known and loved James C. Martin in private life.

Louis T. Perris Dead.

Louis T. Perris, a native of Tarbes, France, aged 73 years, died at his residence, 914 Fourteenth street, this morning. He had resided in Oakland twenty-seven years. Deceased leaves a widow and two daughters. His funeral will take place to-morrow at 2 P. M., from his home. The interment will be at Mountain View Cemetery.

Two Horses Missing.

Sheriff White has been informed of the loss of two horses from the stable of Mr. Halfeldt, who resides on San Leandro road. One is a 6-year-old, weighing 1000 pounds, and bears a white star on the forehead. The other is a stiff old horse, weighing 900 pounds.

WHY LADIES LIKE COFFEE,

Though Many Admit It Hurts Them

Many ladies have so great a liking for coffee for breakfast that the meal seems flat and unsavory without it; but the muddy complexion which is almost a sure accompaniment, is a great trial, and the question is seriously discussed many times over in one's mind, whether it is possible to give over the coffee and gradually get back the lost complexion, or keep on with the coffee and get on with the bad skin and make the best of it.

The disordered stomach and liver sometimes bring on more serious troubles. To quit the use of coffee is the only true relief; it contains the same poisonous alkaloids as tobacco, strychnine, and morphine, although less in volume. One can use the delicious hot Food Coffee, Postum Cereal, at meals, and never miss the coffee. It brews the deep seal-brown of Mocha, and takes on the rich golden-brown of old Java when cream is added. It is made by the Postum Cereal Company, Limited, of Battle Creek, Michigan, purely and wholly of the nourishing grains intended by the Creator for man's subsistence. The pungent taste so well liked in strong coffee is retained in Postum.

Nature quickly recovers when coffee is left off and the natural health coffee is used in place. Healthful sleep is again enjoyed, and nerves, stomach, liver, bowels, and heart cease their complaining when the disturbing cause is withdrawn.

These are great big live facts, worthy the attention of anyone who cares for the exquisite fun of being perfectly well.

WILL AID THE NEEDY BOYS FROM KANSAS.

Red Cross League Is Working to Assist Them.

Money Is Quickly Raised to Buy the Requisite Necessities.

BOYS GRATEFUL FOR ASSISTANCE

Mrs. F. B. Ginn Presents a Full Financial Report of All Contributions.

The pitiful condition of the Kansas Volunteers has appealed to the tender hearts of the ladies of the Red Cross League, who will raise money to clothe the soldier boys. There were many wet eyes among the ladies at headquarters this morning when Mrs. J. F. Lemmon described the sufferings of the boys from the plains. Gold and silver was the ready response to her appeal and nearly $50 was soon in the hands of the committee.

Mrs. Lemmon then introduced the following resolution which was passed by a unanimous vote:

"Resolved, That Oakland Red Cross Society tenders its special and most heartfelt gratitude and appreciation to the Kansas boys in their proofs of patriotism that has not weakened under severe tests, through many sacrifices and difficulties in coming to our shores and we proffer our aid toward needed comforts as our California guests, and when the times comes for them to leave for active service we wish you all a God speed and that we may welcome you upon a safe return."

Mrs. Lemmon stated that the men needed shoes, underclothes, and a hundred and one other necessities.

Mrs. John Cushing was appointed a committee to purchase the needed articles, and constituted herself a committee of one to raise more money, starting the ball rolling with a contribution of $20. Mrs. H. C. Watson and friends gave $17.50, Miss Bertha Shafter, $10; Mrs. Bendel, $25; and the Human Interest Club, $1.75. All this money will be devoted to the Kansas boys, and more is needed.

The Sixth Regiment of California has been the recipient of many favors from the Oakland League, as one of the companies is composed almost exclusively of boys from this city. The boys are grateful and have expressed a desire to thank their benefactors personally, including in the number Mrs. J. T. Carothers, Mrs. F. B. Ginn, William Friend, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hampton, and many others who have given shoes, clothing, literature, etc.

Dr. Myra Knox has issued an appeal to Oakland young girls to supply the Modesto boys with soap and towels. These volunteers left home in a hurry and have none of these necessities. Supplies should be sent at once to Dr. Knox.

More flannel bandages will be made by the ladies, as the government has called upon the League to give 20,000, but will not furnish the material. The bandages are being made constantly at the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Theodore C. Williams has offered the assistance of the Unitarian Church society to help make bandages and the offer has been accepted.

Dr. Knox, as chairman of the committee on surgery, advised mothers who were sending their boys to the front to supply them with four suits of underclothes, quinine and other simple medicines. On her motion, a vote of thanks was extended to Maclise Drug Company, which gave 9,000 grains of quinine in capsules to the League at greatly reduced rates. The medicine was forwarded to the Nebraska boys.

Chaplain Gilbert on board the Australia sent a note of thanks to the ladies for the literature received.

The most interesting report of the meeting was made by Mrs. Ada Van Pelt of the emergency committee, who told of the midnight watching for the Pennsylvania troops to arrive.

"The school children brought such lovely flowers for us to take to the soldiers," said she, "until late at night we worked here getting together the lunch and the flowers. Then we secured a drayman to carry all the packages to Sixteenth street station and I hope it won't shock you ladies, but I mounted the dray and went with him. When we found the boys wouldn't be in until morning we placed the flowers in a cool shed and at 4 o'clock I and some High school boys started out again to get the things to the troops. A baker kindly offered his cart, which we loaded with provisions and flowers and started for the mole. The quartermasters helped us to distribute the things, and you ought to have heard the men cheer us."

Mrs. Van Pelt said the men wanted pie and cake and suggested that the ladies donate large quantities of these edibles.

The following donations were received today:

A pioneer friend, $5; New Home Bakery, 25 loaves of bread; the California Bakery, pies and cakes; shoes, Mrs. Spurgeon; books, Mrs. Sturtevant; D. Y. Campbell, $5; E. J. Crane, $5; Mrs. C. A. Dickinson, 9 glasses jelly; Ackerman, books; Maclise, drugs; box of groceries, J. W. Palmer.

Mrs. Johnson of Webster street donated the services of her small boy as messenger.

Ginn, the financial secretary of the Red Cross Society of Oakland, made today the following financial statement of the receipts of the society up to date: Daughters of American Revolution, $20; Ebell Society, $20; Good Will Kindergarten, $2; Miss Mary Alexander, $15; Mrs. Stoddard, $5; Miss May Benton, $1.70; Louise Hedstrom, $2.50; Mrs. Albert Miller, $20; Mrs. T. TERRIBLE TRAGEDY IN SAN DIEGO.

Murder and Suicide by a Maddened Husband.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 25.—A shocking sight was disclosed in the morgue this morning where a husband and wife of twenty-two years' standing lay side by side with their heads nearly blown out of human shape.

It was the old story of whisky, poverty, and jealousy, ending in the husband killing his wife and then making an end to his own miserable existence.

Alfred Lambla, a Frenchman, aged 60, lived in the eastern part of the city in a small home for the past eight years with his wife and two boys, George, aged 13 and Donald aged 11. The wife worked out at house cleaning, and mostly supported the family.

On her coming home last night both parents, who were apparently under the influence of liquor quarreled, the boys and the mother retiring at about 7 o'clock. However, at 7:30 the boys heard a shot in their mother's room, and rushing in, they found her dead in bed, with the top of her head almost blown off. While there another shot came from the father's room, and running in they found him lying dead on the floor with a shotgun at his side. He had placed the muzzle at his chin and blown his head all to pieces.

A strange thing then occurred. The little boys opened the window of their father's room, went to bed and slept all night, got up, prepared and ate breakfast, then lifted the father's body on to the bed, washed the floor clean, hitched up the horse, drove to the police station and reported the crime. The dead man left a long, rambling letter, asking God to forgive the act, accusing his wife of infidelity and drunkenness, saying he could stand her actions no longer. Her name was Winifred. He married her twenty-two years ago at New London.

An older son and daughter are living. The former is a printer in Los Angeles.

TRY AGAIN.

Don't Let Carelessness Keep You From Comfort.

Have you ever been disappointed in the flavor of your cup of Postum Food Coffee? If so, you are the person we want to talk to. Flavor and food value cannot be extracted from a food drink of this kind, if it is dripped or simmered. A delicious taste and a cup full of nourishment can be had quickly and easily if the Postum be allowed to keep up a clever boiling for fifteen minutes after boiling begins. Remember, to simply leave the pot on the stove fifteen minutes, will not answer. Keep up the boil fifteen minutes after active boiling commences.

This is simple, and if your health is worth looking after at all, it is worth having your Postum made good instead of sloppy, for when it is well boiled, you get the strength and body building elements as well as the charming flavor. Insist on having your beverage well made and that cream or boiled milk be served with it. It is just as easy to have Postum well made as to have it made in a slovenly manner.

This talk on the preparation of Postum, is called for from the fact that we have heard lately of several people who cannot drink coffee and tried Postum, but were discouraged from the fact that it was badly made. When it is served properly, it makes and holds friends for life.

A RACE TRACK BENEFIT CAUSES A DISCUSSION.

Object to the Red Cross Used for Advertisement.

The Red Cross League is face to face with a knotty question, and one that has in its time disturbed the equanimity of churches and organizations. The California Jockey Club has offered to donate the gate receipts from the race track at Emeryville to the league next Friday, and has advertised the event as Red Cross Day at the race track.

The Oakland League was apparently ignorant of the fact that such a benefit was to be given until today, when cards were sent to the ladies, and also 600 tickets, which the ladies were requested to sell.

Mrs. Alice Bunnell, who was acting as chairman of this morning's meeting, called the attention of the ladies to the cards and asked their pleasure in the matter.

The ladies were silent. Then Mrs. Bunnell held up one of the cards which are emblazoned with the Red Cross of the league.

"I think that it does not look well for the emblem of this society to be used for advertising purposes," said Dr. Knox firmly and emphatically.

"It is contrary to the national rules and regulations," affirmed Mrs. J. F. Lemmon.

"Does any one know who authorized this?" asked Mrs. Bunnell. "The card says for the benefit of the California Red Cross Society."

"It probably refers to the San Francisco society and is a matter in which we have no concern," said Mrs. Ginn. "We have our resolution in regard to the giving of entertainments, and I would suggest that the secretary read the resolution."

Mrs. Frances Gray, the secretary, then read the following resolution, which was adopted some time previously:

"Resolved, That, while the Red Cross will not give or be a party to any entertainment for its benefit, it is ready to accept all donations from any entertainment given at the discretion of the entertainment committee."

Dr. Knox was requested to communicate with the San Francisco society relative to whether or not it was to be the beneficiary, and the matter was then quietly dropped, no one taking either cards or tickets.

STEWART OPPOSES THE BOND ISSUE.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—At 11 o'clock this morning the Senate convened, an hour earlier than usual, to resume its discussion of the war revenue measure. Scarcely a dozen Senators were present.

Mr. Hale of Maine reported an important bill to supply deficiencies in pensions and for other purposes. As reported, the bill carries $8,408,405, of which $8,075,872 is for pensions, and the balance for the army, navy and courts.

After a brief discussion of that feature of the measure which makes possible temporary appointments of clerks without civil service examination, it was passed.

A joint resolution was adopted directing the Secretary of War to report to Congress plans for the improvement of Tampa Bay, Fla.

After the transaction of other business, consideration of the war revenue bill was resumed. Mr. Stewart of Nevada took the floor.

Mr. Stewart said he proposed to address himself principally to those paragraphs of the bill which provided for the coinage of silver seignorage and the issue of legal tender notes. He held that the amount of money produced from taxation under the bill would depend largely upon the policy adopted relative to the issue of more money and the issue of bonds. He believed that with an issue of bonds it would require largely more taxation to produce a given sum than it would without an issue of bonds.

AN UNFORTUNATE MAN PLANNING HIS FUTURE.

Henry Davis, assistant engineer of the steamer Monticello, who recently figured in an accident on the Narrow Gauge local whereby he lost both legs has been removed, from the Receiving Hospital to the Marine Hospital at San Francisco. It is Davis' intention to remain in that institution one month and then establish a cigar stand on the water front in the same city city.

Davis is a very popular young fellow and will not starve even with both of his limbs gone.

NEGRO WOUNDS TWO SAILORS.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

KEY WEST, May 25.—Two sailors were attacked by a negro named Kitchen last night and one of them will probably die of his injuries. One of the sailors is William Carne, from the United States gunboat Morrill. He was sitting in front of a saloon when the negro came up and fired at him with a Winchester rifle, inflicting a severe scalp wound. Carne's companion, who belongs on the Hudson, came up and the negro struck him over the head with the gun, inflicting a serious wound. The sheriff and posse are after him.

Organization Affected of the County Baseball League.

Games Will Be Played at the Elmhurst Recreation Park.

NEWS OF THE ATHLETIC CLUBS.

A Reliance Boxing Night Arranged for Next Friday Evening.

The principal events in the world of sports this week will be found recorded below. Interest generally is centered in the boxing contests to be decided at the Reliance Club next Friday night.

THE UMPIRE.

Perhaps there is not a city of its size in the United States that has more natural advantages for a recreation park than Oakland, and there is certainly not a city with so many inhabitants that has not one or more such parks. Why Oakland, with her colleges and universities, should not be similarly endowed, is a question which the wisest refuse to answer.

There have been recreation grounds in Oakland which have paid their projectors handsomely, and there is no reason why the city should be without one at the present time. Such grounds could be run the year round with considerable profit. There are always baseball and football games being played, and the circuses and other outdoor entertainments which come to the city are always looking for suitable places to pitch their tents.

Taking it all in all, it seems surprising that some of the capitalists of the city do not take steps toward preparing and maintaining a recreation park in Oakland. The Alameda County Amateur Baseball League has just been organized, and from present indications all the games of the league will be played at Elmhurst. If a park could be secured in Oakland, many of the games would be played here; in fact, the local grounds would doubtless be the scene of the more important games.

Charley Tye of the Reliance Club and M. Egan of San Francisco boxed seven hard rounds at the Manhattan Club in San Francisco Monday night, and after a remarkably equal fight Egan was knocked out by the local bruiser. The fight was one of the best ones that has been seen on the coast for some time, and it was thoroughly appreciated by the assembled sports. Tye was in his old time form, and proved to those assembled that he had lost none of his former cunning. Those who witnessed his fight with Egan have regained the confidence in Tye which was lost when he was outfought by Phil Green at the Reliance Club some time ago.

The result might be different if Green and Tye were again to face each other in the roped arena.

Judging from the names given the various purses to be contested for at the summer trotting meeting at Charter Oak Park, besides being a meeting of a high order from a racing standpoint, it will be a most patriotic one as well. The programme just announced by the Hartford management is as follows:

Monday, July 5—The Declaration of Independence purse, $2,000, 2:05 class, pacing; the Uncle Sam purse, $1,000, free-for-all class, trotting, to road wagons; the Old Colony purse, $1,500, 2:11 class, trotting; the Pilgrim purse, $1,500, 2:30 class, trotting.

Tuesday, July 5—The Cuban purse, $1,000, 2:13 class, trotting; the Revolution purse, $1,500, 2:30 class, pacing; the Plymouth Rock purse, $1,500, 2:16 class, trotting.

Wednesday, July 6—The Fitzhugh Lee purse, $1,00, 2:09 class, pacing; the Conpurse, $1,000, 2:09 class, pacing; the Con-Red, White and Blue purse, $1,000, 2:27 class, trotting.

Thursday, July 7—The Maine purse, $1,000, 2:24 class, trotting; the Flying Squadron purse, $1,000, 2:13 class, pacing; the Yankee Doodle handicap, $1,000, trotting.

Friday, July 8—The America purse, $1,000, 2:20 class, pacing; the Major Johnston purse, $1,000, 2:17 class, trotting; the Stars and Stripes handicap, $1,000, pacing. —California Turf.

There will be some excellent events at the Reliance Club next Friday night. Several good preliminaries have been arranged, and two eight-round contests will be fought. The main "goes" will be between Tony Williams and William Murnane and Frank Schuler and Hugh Dougherty. These men can be depended upon to fight hard and fast. They all have enviable reputations in Fistiana.

In an article published in the New York Journal early in the month, S. S. Weems has the following to say regarding Eastern starting and riders:

"The starting yesterday was abominable. Some excuses may be found for Fitzgerald in at least one of his bad starts. But he laid himself open to severe criticism, in some respects, and it is now certain that Mr. Fitzgerald must get away from the idea that he can foist upon the public a worthless starting machine, in which he is said to be interested. The Maginnis machine is a greater failure than the Barrett apparatus. Both of them are worse than useless.

"Sloan was the sufferer. Fitzgerald fined him $50 for running through the barrier and for willful disobedience. The fault the starter laid to him was refusing to take an even break and causing all the trouble. Mr. Fitzgerald impressed it on Sloan that he would have to behave like the other jockeys, that he would not allow him to make a running start, and the sooner he understood this the better it would be for him. In justice to Sloan he rode a couple of colts that had never seen a barrier before and seemed to be hardly bridlewise. Charmante threw Sloan in one of her swerves, and 'Tom' Welsh, the trainer, who possibly expected something of the kind, headed her off at the six furlong pole and sent her back to the post."

Captain Seavers of the Reliance Gun Club did some remarkable shooting at Santa Barbara Sunday. Out of a possible 125 he made 119 points, as follows: 9 out of 10, 10 out of 10, 23 out of 25, 19 out of 20, 10 out of 10.

The Reliance boys are justly proud of their gun club captain.

Michael has decided to mount in nine races instead of six. Therefore, either Jimmy's bank account is dwindling, and he needs the money, or he is in such shape that he thinks he can win the greater number of races as easily as the smaller. Take your choice.—Cycling Gazette.

* * *

There seems to be some hitch in the project of building a cycle path from Oakland to San Jose. The idea was fast coming to a head, and cyclists all over the two counties were becoming interested, when suddenly the matter was dropped.

If the members of the Acme Club, the originators of the plan, ever hope to see their plan put into effect, they must keep the matter before the people.

THE UMPIRE.

BICYCLE NOTES.

The proposal to change the rules for relay racing has created a great deal of discussion in the California Associated Cycling Clubs, and the members of the various clubs seem to be in favor of the change. The most important change will be the provision that only members may ride in the respective teams. Formerly the clubs were allowed to pad out their teams with riders from other portions of the State.

If this change were made, the Bay City Wheelmen would be the most affected, as this club has the largest out-of-town following of any. They would lose such riders as Noonan and Felix of Santa Rosa, Peck of Marysville, McKay of Vallejo, and Furman of Los Angeles. The Olympic Wheelmen would lose Wing and Hammonds of San Jose; the Acmes, Decker and Barton of Fresno; Reliance, Freeman of Fresno, De Lay and Cassanave of Los Angeles; the San Francisco Road Club, Quimby, Francis and Robinson of San Jose; the California Cycling Club, Johnson and Casey of Redwood City.

A two-days' bicycle meet is being arranged in Los Angeles for the 27th and 28th of May, under the management of C. E. Crater, formerly of the old Bush-street Theater of this city. The management is advertising the presence of a number of northern cracks, but as the meet is to be held under a League of American Wheelmen sanction, no rider will go from this part of the State.

The use of the bicycle in war is inevitable. If not called into requisition to carry scouts or messengers, the wheel is bound to get into service in one way or another, even if it has to become a telegraph wire reel. A report from Key West displays the truth of this assertion, saying: "Captain Robert E. Thompson, the first censor whom the Government placed over newspaper men in the Key West cable office, is the inventor of a unique bicycle to be used in laying a temporary telephone line. A reel on the bicycle contains several miles of two insulated copper wires. A commanding officer desiring to talk with another officer on the field, he sends the signal man on his bicycle. As the bicycle moves over the ground the wire is reeled off. At the end of the run the signal man dismounts, salutes, and presents a telephone to the officer. He 'rings up' the commanding officer, talks with him, hands the telephone back to the signal man, who at once retraces his track, the reel automatically picking up the wire." All of which goes to show that the man who invented the bicycle builded better than he knew.—Cycling Gazette.

BOXING.

Billy Delaney, trainer and manager of big Jim Jeffries, the pugilist, is slowly recovering from the spell of sickness which came upon him shortly after the Jeffries-Sharkey fight. The illness was the result of a cold caught at the fight.

Jeffries is visiting his family in Los Angeles. He will go East in August.

Tim McGrath, Sharkey's trainer, has been visiting in Oakland for the past week. He reports that Sharkey is taking a rest at Vallejo.

There will be two eight-round bouts for decisions and three preliminary events at the Reliance Club Friday evening. Good men have been secured and an enjoyable evening is anticipated.

Charles Tye knocked out M. Egan at the Manhattan Club in San Francisco Monday night. The fight was an exceedingly game one.

RELIANCE CLUB.

Next Friday night will be devoted to boxing at the Reliance Club. There will be three preliminaries and two eight-round contests for decisions. Following is the programme: Ed Willey vs. John McDonald, F. Arnold vs. J. Granfield, and J Ennis vs. J. Dirks. The main events will be between Tony Williams of the Reliance Club and Wm. Murnane of the San Francisco Athletic Club, weight 115 pounds, and Frank Schuler of the San Francisco Athletic Club and Hugh Dougherty of St. Paul, weight 130 pounds.

The men are all very evenly matched and it will be a great night's sport. The San Francisco Athletic Club boys are all coming over in a body to see their boys battle.

Thursday night, the evening before the boxing night, the club will give a ladies' night. It will be an athletic night and the club will be assisted by the orchestra. The programme will be as follows: Bicycle races on the home trainer between Gooch and Rosenheim, Wyman and Brereton, and Deacon and Franck. The races will be one-mile heats and finals between the winners of the different heats; Prof. Leando, Toohig and McNally, tumbling; Teddy Cotton and Walter S. Lindsley, horizontal bars; Prof. Gelder and Harry Platt, wrestling; James Fox and Tony Williams, boxing; Burke and Swift, tumbling; McPherson and Olson, double trapeze.

The old men's run will take place next Sunday without fail. All those that have invitations are requested to be on hand at the Broadway wharf at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning without fail. The tug Walter Hackett will be on hand to take the boys to San Bruno, where they will disembark and wheel to Burlingame and thence to San Mateo, where a fine dinner will be awaiting them.

Charles Griffiths, W. B. Smith, Bert Nealon and Bert Burrell have started for the Philippine Islands to do battle against the Spaniards.

BASEBALL.

The organization of the Alameda County Amateur Baseball League has been completed with the following board of directors: C. J. Heeseman, H. S. Pugh, H. S. McFarlin and Walter B. Fawcett. Mr. Heeseman is president of the board, and everything points to a very successful season of baseball in this county.

Rules and regulations have been adopted and as soon as these are printed copies may be had by applying to the President. All clubs filing applications for membership will be supplied with these rules at once.

The schedule of games will be announced at the earliest possible moment, and if possible, the first games will be played on Sunday, June 5th.

The home grounds for Oakland and Alameda teams will be at Elmhurst for the present, though a movement is on foot to build good grounds in or near this city.

The following is a partial list of the teams expected to play for the championship:

Alameda Alerts, F. E. Boyd, manager; Alameda City Officials, Fred Klumpfer, manager; California Stars, Frank Cattell, manager; Camilloni & Lagorla, Thos. McGowan, manager; Centerville, Fred Dusterberry, manager; Bay City Flour Mills; Elmhurst, H. B. Arlett, manager; Grand Rule Bazaars, Tony Salvador, manager; Livermore, A. M. Hupers, manager; Mt. Eden, Henry Pederman, manager; Newark, Geo. Graham, manager; Pleasanton, O. A. Zing, manager; Piedmont Parlors, D. W. Doody, manager; Reliance, H. D. Baxter, manager; San Leandro, C. Peterson, manager.

A number of other teams will no doubt enter and it is thought the number will reach twenty before the entries are closed.

President Heeseman has ordered a handsome trophy from the East and as soon as it arrives will place it on exhibition in his window.

A great deal of interest is being taken in this tournament by the lovers of the national game, and as there are some of the best players in the State scheduled to play with some of the local teams a lively contest for the championship may be looked for.

There are three good games scheduled for Sunday and Monday at Elmhurst. Sunday the Alameda Alerts will meet the California Stars and Monday the Alerts will play the Elmhurst a return game and the Stars will meet the Camilloni & Lagorias. Both games will be played in the afternoon, the first one at 2 o'clock sharp, the second to follow immediately upon the completion of seven innings.

The Elmhurst grounds have been put in first-class shape and it is understood a grand stand will be erected in the near future.

There will be some great games of baseball played at Recreation Park this week, games which should satisfy the most exacting ball cranks.

The Fresno team is composed of great players who demonstrated their ability when they played fourteen innings last Sunday at Fresno with the Oakland team.

This was a great game, probably the best game of ball ever played at Fresno or will be equaled for a long time to come.

The game was very exciting all the way through, the teams being tied after the seventh inning 3 to 3, and ended that way.

The Oakland team, after objecting to a decision, in the fourteenth inning, refused to continue the game.

All will be settled next Saturday, however, as Fresno and Oakland are scheduled to play at Recreation Park and as both teams are determined to down the opponents, a close game can be expected.

Russell is pitching great ball and he should hold the Fresnos down to a couple of runs. Sunday, the San Francisco players, who are leading the League, will be pitted against the Oakland team. It is unnecessary to say anything about the relative strength of these teams as they are well known, and have played each other twice, breaking even. Sunday will be the deading game. Monday, Decoration Day, the Oaklands will take a trip to Santa Cruz and see if they cannot bring back with them the scalp of the Santa Cruz team.

The Oakland team will have the usual line up.

WORLD-FAMED MUSICIANS.

Ysaye, Gerardy and Lachaume at the Macdonough Tomorrow.

At the Macdonough Theater, tomorrow night, Ysaye, the great violinist of the day, will be heard in a choice programme of classic and popular music. He will be aided by Gerardy and Lachaume. Such an array of artists has seldom been heard in any city in the world, for the simple reason that such great performers as those above mentioned are not in the habit of appearing together. It is only under extraordinary circumstances and inducements that they can be prevailed upon to do this, and the people of this city can pride themselves on the fortunate circumstances which bring Ysaye, Gerardy and Lachaume to this city.

The sale of seats for this great musical event has been immense, and the three great artists will undoubtedly be greeted by a large and fashionable audience.

THE OAKLAND.

The Prisoner of Algiers was repeated at the Oakland Theater last night before another large and enthusiastic audience. The play moved in a very smooth manner and all the telling situations were worked up in a most thrilling manner. The company is a strong one and the engagement promises to be one of the most successful of the season.

A WEDDING FRUSTRATED.

The Youth of the Bride Prevents the Ceremony Being Held.

Cyril Leroy Devere was last evening refused a license to wed Miss Louise Violet Johnson because the lady is under age. The case is peculiar in that Miss Johnson has neither father, mother nor guardian who could give consent to her premature marriage. The wedding was to have occurred tonight.

INQUEST POSTPONED.

The inquest on the remains of John Hickey, which was to be held last night, has been postponed by Coroner Baldwin. Hickey was fireman on the narrow gauge train which was wrecked last Sunday, and he was killed in the accident. The reason for the postponement was that Ed Baldwin, the engineer of the train, was unable to testify. Baldwin was severely scalded about the hands and face, and his lips and jaw have so swollen that he is unable to speak.

The remains of Hickey were forwarded to Santa Cruz today for interment.

Barry's Side of the Story.

J. H. Barry denies that E. L. Marshall administered a beating to him at the Presidio Sunday, after the former accused the latter of improper conduct with his (Barry's) little daughter. Barry claims that he was the one who gave the punishment and that later Marshall was placed under arrest.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

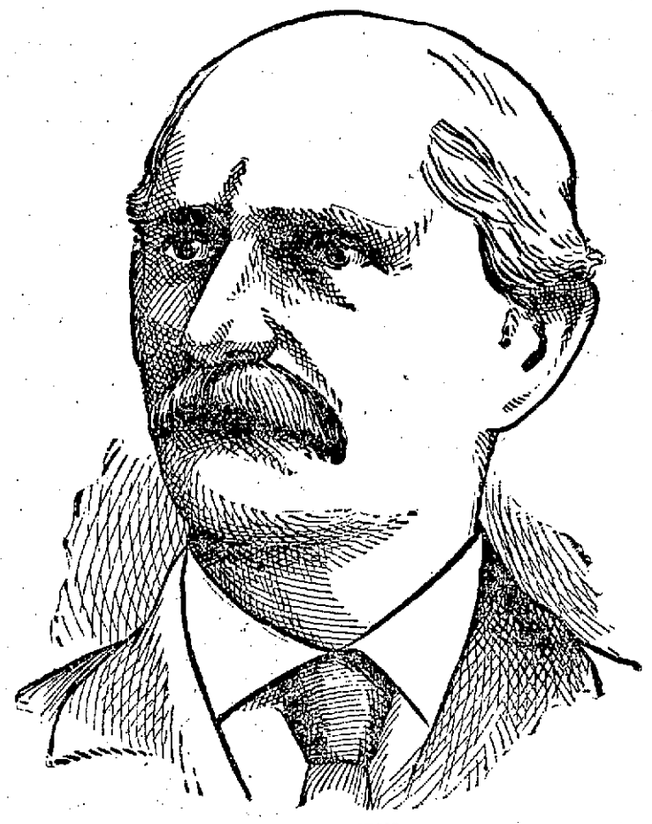

A WORN-OUT FAD.

"Spring Medicines" "Blood Purifiers" and "Tonics" an Old-Fashioned Idea.

Pure blood, strong nerves and muscles; firm, healthy flesh, can only come from wholesome food well digested. "Blood purifiers" and "nerve tonic" do not reach the cause of the mischief. The stomach is the point to be looked after. The safest and surest way to cure any form of indigestion is to take after each meal some harmless preparation of this kind composed of vegetable essences, pure pepsin, golden seal and fruit salts, sold by druggists under name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and these tablets taken after meals assist digestion wonderfully, because they will digest the food promptly before it has time to ferment and sour, and the weak stomach relieved and assisted in this way soon becomes strong and vigorous again.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are superior to any secret patent medicines because you know what you are taking into your stomach.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50¢ per package. Write F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., for book on stomach diseases, mailed free.

JAMES BURNS
Ex-Collector of the Port of Kansas City.

Of the men who have occupied positions of public trust in Kansas City, either by gift of the people or by appointment, none has a more enviable reputation for ability, honesty and efficiency than James Burns, Collector of the Port of Kansas City under Grover Cleveland. He lived to the letter the maxim, "a public office is a public trust," and when he retired he carried with him the respect of every one in the community—Democrats and Republicans alike.

James Burns has used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and he does not hesitate to say they have accomplished wonders.

"I suffered with dyspepsia for twenty years," said Mr. Burns yesterday. "Never knew what it was to enjoy life—in fact living seemed a burden, as it does to all who suffer severely with dyspepsia. A few months ago I began taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. From the first I felt relief, and now, although I am still taking them, I feel entirely cured. For the first time in twenty years I can eat anything I want and suffer no ill effects from it. You can't imagine the pleasure of this unless you have been a dyspepsia sufferer.

"I never gave a testimonial for any medicine before, but I feel as if everybody ought to know of this remedy, and while it is personally distasteful to me to appear in print in this connection, I feel as if I had no right to shirk the opportunity to, perhaps, help some other sufferers from dyspepsia. I have been recommending the Tablets to all my friends. Only recently I took James H. Lillis, the father of Father Lillis, down to get some, and I understand he also is being wonderfully benefited. I can't recommend it too highly."

An unsolicited testimonial to the value and excellence of Ripans Tabules comes from one of the best known stenographers in Philadelphia, a gentleman who for a number of years has been connected with one of the largest brokerage firms in that city. "Stenography," he says, "has been my life study. To it I have given all my time and attention. I occupy a position of trust and in order to merit the confidence reposed in me I have to give very close attention to my duties. I would be unable to do this were it not for the use of Ripans Tabules, which I consider the only successful remedy for ills of the stomach and liver, and furthermore the nerves. About a year ago I became a sufferer from nervous dyspepsia and indigestion to such a degree that I was in constant dread of falling behind in my work. It was a friend who first told me of Ripans Tabules and advised me to make trial of them. I did so and the relief was absolute and immediate, and in a month I was practically as free from the trouble as I was before it began. I have continued to take the Tabules, at intervals, ever since, because I find them not only excellent for keeping the general system in tone, but for the purpose of occasional slight stimulation. I can sincerely recommend Ripans Tabules. The duties incumbent upon an expert stenographer and practiced typist are severe and exacting. To be able to take dictation at a rapid rate and from men who are entirely different in their methods requires a steady hand and a clear head. The ordinary stenographer will tell you that he cannot do his work properly unless his physical condition is good."

A new style pocket containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

SWEET GIRL GRADUATES WIN DEPLOMAS.

Mills College Holds Its Commencement Today.

Patriotism ran riot in the commencement decorations at Mills College today. The national colors tossed on the breeze and furled and unfurled the gleaming glories of the stars and stripes. There was the enthusiasm of young blood and the patriotism of true Americans.

The girls had personally planned the decorations and their plans were faithfully carried out by a professional decorator. Adown the long hall the national colors framed portraits and hung in graceful festoons. In the main auditorium where the exercises were held, there was no lack of evidence to show the patriotic spirit of the graduates. The rostrum was hung with flags. Ferns banked the rear and made a delicious cool and dainty background for the white-frocked graduates.

Mills College has been in a state of excitement since early morning. At 10 a. M. the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees took place and was fraught with more than usual interest. Miss Janet Haight of Oakland succeeded Mrs. Alexander Martin as trustee. Mrs. Martin's term of office had expired and Miss Haight was the nominee of the alumnae, who unanimously selected her for this post of honor at their last meeting.

Dr. George Adams, pastor of the First Congregational Church of San Francisco, was also elected as trustee.

At the conclusion of the meeting of the trustees, there was an inspection of the art gallery which showed some clever work done by the students. A visit was made to the various buildings and throughout the grounds guests sauntered, enjoying the beautiful surroundings.

Luncheon was served later at the prettily decorated table with the students as attendants.

The commencement exercises proper were at 2:30 P. M., when the graduates assembled in the main hall. The exercises opened with a hymn and prayer, followed by a vocal solo by Miss Sydnia A. Barnard, who gave a charming rendition of Rubenstein's "Since First I Met Thee."

Dr. George Adams followed with a masterly address to the graduates in which he touched appropriately upon their work in the past and their opportunities in the future.

The choral class followed with a splendid rendition Chopin's "Hear, O Lord."

Mrs. Mills then conferred diplomas on the following graduates:

College—Mary Adele Laughlin.

Seminary—Sydnia Alice Barnard, Eveline May Kerr, Grace Elizabeth Reynolds, F. Lou Veneta Rowe, Adelaide Margaret Samuels.

There was a large number in attendance at the exercises to-day and at the concert last evening. The latter was exceptionally fine.

AN ORDINANCE.

An Ordinance providing for the Amendment of Franchise heretofore granted by the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County, California, on November 17th, 1884, to the Alameda, Oakland and Piedmont Railroad Company, as Amended by an Ordinance of said Board of Supervisors, adopted December 5th, 1892. The Amendment provided for in this Ordinance being to require the Oakland Transit Company, the present owner and holder of said Franchise as so Amended, to pay a certain proportion of the expense for the operation and repair of the Webster street bridge in lieu of a certain provision of said Franchise in relation to said bridge.

The Board of Supervisors of the county of Alameda, State of California, do ordain as follows:

Section 1. Whereas, a franchise for a street railroad was granted to the Alameda, Oakland and Piedmont Railroad Company by an Ordinance of the Supervisors of the county of Alameda, passed November 17th, 1884;

And Whereas, said Ordinance passed on November 17th, 1884, granted to said railroad company the right to cross over and upon the Webster street bridge (so called) and lay down and maintain its railroad tracks and propel its cars thereon, commencing at the southern end of said bridge where the same intersects the line of ordinary high tide; thence along the carriage way on said bridge to the northern end of said bridge at or near the northern end of Water street, and said ordinance provided that said railroad company should pay one-tenth (1-10) of the cost of keeping the planking of the entire bridge in repair;

And Whereas, said franchise so granted was afterwards assigned and transferred to the Alameda, Oakland and Piedmont Electric Railway Company, and said franchise when so held by said Alameda, Oakland and Piedmont Electric Railway Company was by this Board amended on December 5th, A. D. 1892, so as to substitute electric power for horses, or mules, in running street cars on the said bridge and approaches thereto under said franchise as above mentioned:

And Whereas, the Oakland Transit Company has succeeded to all the rights, properties and franchises of the said Alameda, Oakland and Piedmont Electric Railway Company:

And Whereas, this Board is about to erect a new drawbridge at the place where said present drawbridge, known as the Webster street bridge, now stands, said bridge being located at the foot of Webster street and connecting the cities of Alameda and Oakland:

And Whereas, in view of the large expense to which the county of Alameda will be put by the erection of said new bridge, this Board deemed it but just that the Oakland Transit Company should consent to pay more for the repair and operation of said new bridge than is required under said franchise as above mentioned:

And Whereas, said Oakland Transit Company, on April 4th, 1898, submitted to this Board a proposition which is in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

"To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors of the county of Alameda, State of California—

"Gentlemen:

"Whereas, we have been informed that the county of Alameda, through your Honorable Board, is contemplating the erection of a new drawbridge connecting the cities of Alameda and Oakland at the place where the drawbridge now stands at the foot of Webster street, over which bridge the cars of the Alameda, Oakland and Piedmont Electric Railway passed by virtue of a franchise and an amendatory franchise owned and held by the said railway company, said franchise having been granted on November 17th, 1884, by the Board of Supervisors of said county to the Alameda, Oakland and Piedmont Railroad Company, and by it assigned to said Alameda, Oakland and Piedmont Electric Railway Company, and said amendatory franchise having been granted by said Board of Supervisors on December 5th, 1892, to said last named company:

"And Whereas, the undersigned, the Oakland Transit Company, has succeeded to all the rights of said Alameda, Oakland and Piedmont Electric Railway Company, and is the owner of said franchise and amendatory franchise now in force as aforesaid, and is operating its cars in compliance with the same:

"And Whereas, the undersigned has been requested by your Honorable Board to contribute a portion of the expense for the construction and repair of the new drawbridge afore-mentioned, and while the undersigned company cannot agree to pay anything for the construction of the new drawbridge, said company most respectfully proposes the following, to-wit:

"That upon the acceptance of this proposition by your Honorable Board, the undersigned company hereby contracts and agrees to pay one-eighth (⅛) of the total expense for all necessary repairs and one-eighth (⅛) of the necessary expense of operating said new drawbridge for the first five years after said bridge is completed and accepted by said county, and thereafter the undersigned will pay one-fourth (¼) of the total necessary expense for the repair of said bridge, and one-fourth (¼) of the necessary expense of operating said new drawbridge during all the following years in which said franchise and amendatory franchise, by virtue of which the undersigned operates its cars over said bridge and approaches, shall remain in force and effect. It being of course understood that the above payments shall be in lieu of the provision of said franchise requiring the grantee and assigns thereof to pay one-tenth (1-10) of the cost of keeping the planking of the entire bridge in repair, and also that the rights of the undersigned under said franchise and amendatory franchise shall not be construed as being hereby abridged or altered except as to the above matter.

"Yours very respectfully,

"(Corporate Seal.)

"OAKLAND TRANSIT COMPANY.
"By E. A. HERON,
"President.

"Attest:
"SAMUEL J. TAYLOR,
"Secretary."

"And Whereas, the acceptance of said proposition is for the best interests of the county of Alameda:

"And Whereas, the Oakland Transit Company, through its President, has in open Board agreed that the above agreement will apply to said bridge and its approaches. Now therefore

The Board of Supervisors do ordain as follows:

"That said proposition be and the same is hereby accepted.

"Section 2. That the Ordinance whereby said franchise was granted by this Board on November 17th, 1884, to the Alameda, Oakland and Piedmont Railroad Company, as amended by this Board on December 5th, 1892, and now owned by the Oakland Transit Company, as aforesaid, be and the same is hereby amended by striking out the following words in said Ordinance granting said franchise, to-wit: "Provided that said railroad company shall pay one-tenth (1-10) the cost of keeping the planking of the entire bridge in repair," and in lieu thereof said Oakland Transit Company shall and is hereby required to pay one-eighth (⅛) of the total expense for all necessary repairs and one-eighth (⅛) of the necessary expense of operating said new drawbridge and its approaches so proposed to be erected for the first five years after said new bridge is completed and accepted by said county of Alameda, and thereafter said Oakland Transit Company shall pay one-fourth (¼) of the total necessary expense for the repair of said drawbridge and its approaches, and one-fourth (¼) of the necessary expense of operating said new drawbridge during the remainder of the term of years during which, by virtue of said franchise and amendatory franchise, the Oakland Transit Company is to operate its cars over said new bridge and its approaches. Said sums to be paid by said Oakland Transit Company to the county of Alameda for said expenses for operation and repair quarterly from the date of the completion of said bridge and its approaches.

"Section 3. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as abridging or altering the rights of the Oakland Transit Company under said franchise as amended, except as provided for under section 2 of this Ordinance, but said franchise as amended is hereby confirmed in said Oakland Transit Company.

"Section 4. This Ordinance shall take effect and be in force on and after fifteen days after its passage.

Passed and adopted by the following called vote, May 9th, 1898:

Ayes — Supervisors Church, Mitchell, Roeth, Wells and Chairman Talcott—5.

PENNSYLVANIA'S QUOTA ARRIVES.

The Fighting Tenth Reaches Oakland and Camps Over Night.

On the Journey to San Francisco Today They Are Given a Rousing Greeting.

Professional Men by the Scores Are in the Ranks of the Stalwart Eastern Boys in Blue.

The Tenth Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers, 640 strong, occupying two special trains of thirty-four cars, arrived in Oakland last night, and, after spending the night at the Peralta street yards, embarked for San Francisco at 7 o'clock this morning.

Fully 1,000 people gathered at the Sixteenth street depot at 6 o'clock and stayed till nearly 10 o'clock, but when it was learned that the troops would not arrive till midnight the crowd dispersed. The first section of the train arrived at 11:30 o'clock and the other section an hour later.

Among those who were noticed among the crowd at the depot, were Mayor Thomas, who stayed for an hour, Ex-Sheriff McKillican, State Senator Voorhies of Amador and many other prominent people.

It was expected that the soldiers would spend the night on the sidetrack at Sixteenth street, but the plans were changed and the trains proceeded to the West Oakland yards.

The Tenth is Pennsylvania's crack militia regiment. A. L. Hawkins, the colonel, is known as the "Fighting Colonel of the Tenth" and is a veteran of the Civil War. He has been at the head of this regiment for twenty years. During the Morehead strike of 1890 and the great Homestead strike two years later, Colonel Hawkins led the Tenth and so well did the men acquit themselves that they received special commendation from the Governor. Since leaving home the Colonel has been nominated for the State Senate of Pennsylvania.

The two majors of the regulars are mining and civil engineers, and several physicians and dentists are in the hospital corps. The quarter-master is a prominent lawyer and in Company I there are twenty more legal lights. Lieutenant-Colonel Barnet is Pennsylvania's Secretary of State.

Company H is composed of students from Washington and Jefferson colleges.

The regimental officers are: Colonel A. L. Hawkins of Washington, Pennsylvania; Lieutenant-Colonel James E. Barnet of Washington; Adjutant First Lieutenant H. B. Duncan, quartermaster; First Lieutenant E. B. McCormick; Surgeon-Major G. W. Neff; assistant surgeon, E. B. McCormick; Lieutenants John W. Coffin and L. P. McCormick; chaplain, Captain Joseph L. Hunter, a Presbyterian clergyman of Jamestown.

A ROUSING GREETING.

As the ferry boat bearing the soldiers neared San Francisco this morning all the steam whistles on the water front blew a greeting and the men on the Monterey, and those on the transport steamers City of Peking, City of Sydney, and the Australia added their cheers to the noise.

The Pennsylvanians responded from the deck of the ferry boat, cheer for cheer.

The Red Cross Society, as usual, took charge of the visitors and conducted them to the rooms of the Society where hot coffee, sandwiches, and fruit were served to the men. They were hungry and thirsty and the work of the Red Cross was greatly appreciated. After breakfast each man was presented with a small boquet of flowers, which the men placed in their gun barrels or wore in their hats.

Market street was thronged with people who welcomed the soldiers with cheers, the waving of flags and gifts of fruit and flowers which the donors passed to the men as they marched along the streets on the way to their camping ground at Fort Richmond, where the volunteers are camping.

All the volunteer troops have been transferred from the Presidio to Fort Richmond and now the entire volunteer force is located on the site of the old race track.

THE CIENFUEGOS FIGHT NARRATED.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—An interesting letter has been received at Green Point, L. I., from a member of the crew of the cruiser Marblehead, who describes the engagement at Clefuegos on the southern coast of Cuba. He writes under date of May 18th as follows:

"Left Key West on May 4th about midnight. The Eagle joined us before we got to Cienfuegos. The Nashville came next day. We lay off and on the 10th, when a coal collier and the Windom came down with the order for us to cut three cables that went out of Cienfuegos. The next morning at 8 two boats from our ship and two from the Nashville went within fifty yards of the shore. They had to go in close, for the water is very deep.

"There was a fine lighthouse and quite a high mountain and 7,000 Spanish soldiers at the point. As soon as the boats left the ships we took our position 1,200 yards from shore. The Nashville took her's and we all sent shell into the woods and all around the lighthouse, but did not touch the latter. Trees, stones and dirt did everlastingly fly and the Spaniards were going over the hills as fast as they could. Everything worked well.

"We got two cables cut all right and were on the third when they got some rapid-fire guns working on our boats. We sent five-inch shells in there as fast as we could load the guns, but did not reach them. One was coming from the lighthouse. As soon as the captain saw it he ordered them to fire on the lighthouse. Six five-inch shells struck it at the same time.

"Our boats had been driven away from the cable. There was one man dead in the boats and seven injured. We got the men out of the boats, hosted the boats and blew down the lighthouse. It was a fine sight to see them shoot at the lighthouse. It was about sixty feet high and built of brick. They cut it in the center and it fell all in a heap. We put all the injured aboard the Windom and sent them to Key West. We buried the one that was killed the same night after supper.

"The next day four insurgent leaders came aboard and said that they were back of the hills and as fas as the Spaniards came over the hills, from the effects of our fire, they would shoot them. We killed 360 Spaniards and wounded five insurgents. One shell landed in their camp. One of the insurgents could speak good English. He had been through some college in Pennsylvania."

This letter was written while the Marblehead was steaming back to Key West. The writer says, in closing: "There are some of our big ships lying off Key West."

SIFTING THE WHEAT.

Almost every lover of books, whether for instruction or mere recreation, has felt at one time or another the wish that he could read all existing works in the line of his special taste. With some, indeed, the thirst for knowledge is so ardent that they would like to be able to read all the books in the world. This is of course impossible. A life-time long would not suffice even to read a small fraction of them. Besides it would not pay. Only a small proportion of the world's books are worth reading at all. A still smaller selection could be said to be great books. And even among these great or famous books there is often very much chaff to a small quantity of wheat.

The wheat has been sought and sifted out—the wheat of the literature of all climes and times—and is now garnered and presented to us in Charles Dudley Warner's "Library of the World's Best Literature." This is a fact. It's no exaggeration whatever. For years many gifted scholars and critics have been engaged on it. They have searched and scrutinized all the literatures. They have chosen all the best and representative authors in each. They have taken the poets, philosophers, essayists, historians, scientists, novelists, humorists, and theologians. They have scanned over the works of each and all. And here they give us, in marvelous variety, completeness and contrast, the cream of thought and expression to be found in all. Why even the collection furnished of the world's best poems is a feature that would make Mr. Warner's "Library" a work of enduring and fascinating interest.

But this granary of precious literature is not left to our consumption without guidance and preparation. Here are more than one thousand essays, critical and biographical, by the most eminent living writers on all the chief branches of literature, and on the lives and works of the standard authors. Here we find the history of the literature of every country as a whole. Here is an exhaustive biographical dictionary of authors covering between 10,000 and 12,000 names. Here again is an analysis of the world's chief books in every language, and as a key to the whole an index of almost microscopic choice and clearness. To plant a few copies of the library in each locality so as to fully advertise it, the Harper's Weekly Club is putting out the introductory edition at a very low price and on easy terms. It will pay all our readers to send postal at once for particulars to Harper's Weekly Club, Claus Spreckels Building, San Francisco, California.

SPAIN'S RED BOOK GIVEN TO THE PUBLIC.

Appeals to the Powers Before the War Started.

France Was the First Nation Whose Aid Was Invoked.

NO PROMISES FROM ENGLAND.

The Pope's Efforts to Bring About a Settlement Satisfactory to the Spaniards.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A dispatch to the World from London says:

The first available copy of the Spanish red book has been received by the World correspondent. It contains much interesting unpublished matter regarding the negotiations between Washington and Madrid and between Madrid and the great powers prior to the declaration of war. Following is the full text of a telegraphic circular dispatch to the Spanish Ambassadors abroad, forwarded by Minister Gullon on March 22d:

"The news from the United States cannot be considered satisfactory, as McKinley and his Government have allowed the tide to rise considerably, and it is now doubtful whether they have the wish or power to withstand it. In the course of this week we shall know whether the President has taken upon himself the powers of an executive in international affairs, or has placed himself in the hands of the chambers, submitting to them the report of the Maine disaster, which will probably be without foundation in fact and hostile to ourselves."

Nearly every dispatch has some passage omitted which, presumably, if published, would not have been of assistance to the Spanish case. On March 29th Castillo describes an interview with Hanotaux on presenting the foregoing note: "I told him that by active cooperation we wished to secure European concert, as this crisis has reached an acute stage and requires prompt action. I thought the most efficacious thing at the present moment would be for France to invoke the traditional international policy with reference to Cuba since the beginning of the century, and should direct herself to England in order to propose common action in favor of peace. Hanotaux accepted this suggestion and asked for time to consider and put the matter before the Council of Ministers."

Merry del Val, the Spanish Ambassador at the Vatican, wrote March 25th on the same subject: "Rampolla evinced the great impression my information had upon him. He approves the answer your excellency proposes giving to the American Government and praises its calm moderation. Our Government recommends that it should try to persuade the European Governments to use their influence at Washington with the end of avoiding war. He has persuaded France, whose form of government cannot call for objections in the United States, and which is animated by deep feelings of friendship for Spain, to act.

"He assures me that we may rely on the good will of the Holy See."

The reply of the British Government to Senor Rascon was more non-committal, merely expressing regret "at any event that may disturb unnecessarily the good relations between Spain and the United States." Mr. Balfour is telegraphing the Ambassador at Washington to inform the Government there of the conciliatory attitude of Spain."

From a dispatch of Count Hoyos, the Spanish Ambassador at Vienna, it appears that Austria recommended, on March 27th, "that the report of the Spanish commission on the Maine be published as an offset to the American report, to facilitate arbitration."

There are two hiatuses in this dispatch, which from the context would appear to contain recommendations of submission by Spain to the United States' demands. Count Muravieff, according to Senor Villa Gonzale, on March 27th, "showed himself full of sympathy for Spain and enthusiasm for the Queen. He assured me that the Emperor was animated by the same feelings."

Senor Mazo reports March 27th from Rome that the Italian Minister "informed me with visible conviction that his Government, animated with the most friendly feelings toward the Queen and Spain, will at once act in the direction Spain suggests. On leaving he repeated that deep sympathy and good wishes were felt toward our country."

There certainly is nothing in the reception accorded the Spanish note by the German Chancellor, as reported by Senor Mendez Vigo on March 27th, to justify Spanish expectations of the special friendship of Germany. His dispatch says that the "Chancellor listened to me and took full appreciation of the conduct of both Governments, which are so opposite in character."

The Spanish Ambassador at St. Petersburg wrote on March 20th: "The Foreign Minister told me he had had a long conversation today with the United States Ambassador, who informed him that he felt absolutely sure that a conflict between the United States and Spain could not take place, as he knew the strength of character of the President of the Republic. The Foreign Minister informed him of the earnest desire of the Emperor that our rights should be respected and to remove all idea of war. The Foreign Minister was satisfied with the guarantee of peace given him by the American Ambassador."

The Spanish Ambassador at London wrote April 2d: "Mr. Balfour says that the Government is confident that the President of the United States is as desirous as the Spanish Government to arrive at an arrangement satisfactory to both parties."

Merry del Val wrote from Rome April 2d: "Rampolla just told me that advices from Washington were very serious. The President is anxious to come to an arrangement, but finds himself opposed by the Chambers. The difficulty lies in who is to ask for a suspension of hostilities. The President seems very much disposed to accept the help of the Pope, and the latter, being desirous of helping us, wishes to know, first, if the intervention of his holiness, asking for an armistice, leaves the national honor untarnished; secondly, if such intervention is to the liking of Spain.

"I beg an immediate answer, as the position is very grave and the Pope asks for an early reply."

EDUCATORS FACE A SERIOUS PROBLEM.

Will Decide Monday What Teachers Will Be Dropped.

Until Monday night the High school and Commercial school teachers will be uneasy, for none know where the ax will fall and whose heads will be decapitated. Superintendent McClymonds' report to the Board of Education favored decreasing expenses by cutting down the teaching force. Principal McChesney of the High school was strongly adverse to any loss of teachers in his department and urged that the commercial classes of the Central school be transferred to the High school.

If the transfer is made, it means that several teachers in the Central school will have to look for new positions. The Board of Education has not expressed itself in favor of any plan as yet, but will investigate before taking action. Mr. McClymonds' report has been referred to the Classification, High School and Industrial Educational Committees to report upon. The members of these three committees include Directors Powell, Wilc ,oxC mb bm bm bm Powell, Wilcox, Clement, Evans, Knox and Rutherford. They will meet next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock to review the situation thoroughly and decide on what recommendations to make.

GOOD NEWS IS EXPECTED FROM SAMPSON SOON.

Administration Believes Cervera Cannot Escape.

American Fleet Will Chase Him to Spain if Necessary.

PRESS DISPATCH BOATS BARRED

Well Enough in a Peaceful Blockade but a Menace When Battle Impends.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A special to the Times from Washington says:

Letters from Key West arriving late or becoming public to a limited extent long after they have reached Washington, convey the information that about everything that can steam, sail or be towed has been forced into the service to assist Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley to box up Admiral Cervera and force him to give battle, if he has not escaped.

Not a word of the elaborate preparations, except by way of roundabout hints, has come from Key West, the newspaper correspondents having been put on their honor not to give intimations of operations that can assist the enemy in the slightest particular.

All the talk in the meeting of the Cabinet today indicated the confidence of the administration in the early receipt of good news from Admiral Sampson. One Cabinet officer, who expressed the greatest eagerness to hear from Sampson and Schley, and who has no doubt that the news, when it comes, will be "great," admitted that the outside limit of time in which it was expected that the vessels of the United States and Spain must meet had passed that the official information might arrive at any moment either that Cervera was bottled up or that his fleet was at the bottom of the ocean.

"I do not look first for unofficial information," said he, "for the reason that the commanding officer of the United States forces has concluded that he can get along quite as well and without so much possibility of injurious observation if he excludes newspaper boats, as he has done."

The administration is determined that if Cervera will not fight, but manifests a determination to get away and return to Spain, to follow him up and "kill" his fleet before it can reach its own side of the Atlantic. To do this might require the sending of coal ships along with the United States fleet for some distance, but if any accident should happen to any of the Spanish vessels, or the supply of coal should run out, Admiral Cervera would have to run the risk of destruction, or else abandon a disabled vessel in the hope of getting off with the others, or perhaps, be overtaken by single ships until the whole fleet was gobbled up. It is calculated by naval officers that the Spanish fleet has now about exhausted its fuel and that it cannot undertake the difficult task of retreating. The only honorable outcome to Spain is for Spain's ships to try conclusions at once while the coal bunkers and the food supplies are not completely exhausted.

There will be no news from Sampson or Schley until one or both of them has tested the inclination or ability of Cervera to fight. Naval officers laugh at the suggestion that if Cervera should give the United States ships the slip the vessels of Sampson's and Schley's fleets would be again withdrawn to Key West to be used as convoys to protect the transports in moving the army to Cuba, leaving Cervera to stay in these waters or to return, as he pleases.

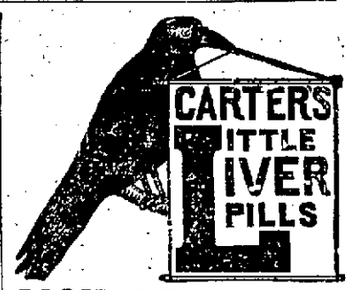

"Admiral Sampson," said a naval officer of experience and spirit, "is reasonably free to move and act as he chooses. He has the opportunity to carve a place in our history alongside that of Dewey. You will not catch him coming back empty-handed to bear the jibes of a disappointed people. Explanations will be of no avail if he does not render a good account of himself under his instructions to seek and destroy the Spanish fleet. If he does that explanations will never be asked for by anybody. And I think that tomorrow will bring the opportunity for us to cheer for Sampson and Schley along with Dewey."

In addition to the belated policy of censorship adopted in regard to the transmission of reports of naval movements by telegraph, it appears that the Navy Department has decided to dispense with the attendance of newspaper dispach boats upon the fleet in Cuban waters.

The information reached here that before the beginning of the recent operation of the squadrons of Sampson and Schley against the Spanish fleet notification was given to all the newspaper boats which have been watching and reporting the blockade that they would not be allowed to follow the warships on their cruise. The notice was peremptory, it is understood, and its strict enforcement is supposed here to account for the lack of news from the fleet, which has amounted to a famine for the last week. Had the newspaper boats been with Sampson and Schley on their cruise in pursuit of the Spanish flying squadron, it is reasoned that the telegraphic censorship at Florida points would not have prevented the receipt of information by other routes from some one of the many cable stations in the West Indies.

The permission given by the Navy Department to the dispatch boats to follow the fleets on previous cruises has been very seriously criticised here as inimical to the best interests of the service and altogether an undignified proceeding. It has given rise to considerable unfavorable comment abroad also, and has been the particular butt of sarcasm from the German Emperor, who is said to have derived considerable amusement from the spectacle of a fleet of warships attended by a convoy of newspaper boats. Whether these criticisms have resulted in the decision of the Navy Department to exclude the boats is not known, but the decision is generally commended as a wise one.

The presence of the newspaper craft may not have done any harm, it is pointed out, so long as the naval operations are confined to a peuceful blockade, but now that a serious naval campaign is on, it is recognized that it is the part of wisdom to free the fleet from such espionage.

TESLA COAL.

Big Strides Being Made by the Home Product.

Although the Tesla Coal Company's local office has been open for merely a few weeks, the home coal has become very popular through the managerial energy backed by the plain, palpable merits of the coal. It is being used by the biggest manufactories in the county, and our large restaurants and hotels are using it in preference to any other coal in the market. The small price per ton, the great heat which the coal rapidly generates, the cumulative fact that it is a county product, the offensive price schedules of the coal combine and the energy of the manager, Mr. Griffiths, are the main factors operating now to make Tesla coal standard in the county where it is mined.

MRS. GREGORY NOW CROWS HYSTERICAL.

Mrs. Abigail M. Gregory, who killed her lover, Hugh W. Williams, while he was fighting with her ex-husband Sunday morning, and who was charged with murder by the coroner's jury Monday night, spent a miserable day in the Alameda jail yesterday.

She became hysterical several times and the physicians fear that she may be stricken with nervous prostration.

Police Officer Lawrence of Alameda has sworn to a murder complaint against the woman.

The suit of Emma S. Reinhardt against her mother, Anna M. Snyder, to recover $800 for household services, was to-day dismissed by Judge Ogden without prejudice.

Attorney Fry's Statement.

Editor of Tribune, Dear Sir:—I was represented in yesterday's Tribune as saying, among other things, that I could not see that there was sufficient ground for discharging the four jurors who were discharged from further service, presumptively on account of their decision in the case of The People vs. O'Neill.

The foregoing inferentially admits that there was some ground for their discharge and is an incorrect inference from anything said by me. I would say that I believe that the four jurors who voted for acquittal were honest and disinterested and that they were justified by the evidence as taken at the trial and the law as given by the Court.

Respectfully,
FRED W. FRY.
